Top Of The Morning

WEATHER

Warm and mild today, with partly cloudy skies and a chance of thundershowers late this afternoon and early evening. Today's high is expected to be near 80 with the overnight low in the low 60's. Sunrise today was at 6:21 a.m., sunset will be at 8:31 p.m. Yesterday's 7 a.m. report: High 77 degrees, low 53 degrees; no precipitation was recorded.

Kinzua Dam Report

Pool level 1330.72 feet (desired summer pool level 1328; maximum 1365 feet) Outflow temperature 64 degrees, upper reservoir 74 degrees. Reading at the Warren gauge 5.86 feet.

WARREN COUNTY

During the month of July, Warren County has been the scene of nine fatal accidents, with 10 persons being killed. The borough of Warren has recorded two fatalities.

The Liberty Street project, involving a 160-space parking lot and two-story commercial building, is probably only three months away from final approval.

The county school district's program specialist told Rotarians yesterday that Warren County's commissioners turned down sharing in $4,000 in federal funds for homes for neglected children, because Hoffman home was going to be shut down.

THE NATION

WASHINGTON — A report by the U.S. commission on civil rights, highly critical of the slowness of school desegregation in the South, called for faster, stricter observance of federal guidelines, more help from Congress in enforcing the guidelines, and changes in the civil rights act to speed the process. The commission found enforcement of laws inadequate, partly because of a manpower shortage at the Office of Education in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

DETROIT — Two white policemen were arrested and charged with the murder of two young Negroes in a motel during Detroit's racial rioting two weeks ago. The policemen, who pleaded not guilty, were held without bail on the charges.

WASHINGTON — In testimony before a House banking and currency subcommittee on consumer affairs, two top Administration officials said that the millions of Americans with revolving charge accounts in department stores should be informed of the true amount of annual interest they are paying.

THE WORLD

JERUSALEM — Shops and restaurants in the Old City and East Jerusalem were closed yesterday by a general strike by the Arab population against Israeli occupation of the former Jordanian sector. The strike brought all business activity to a halt in the eastern half of the city as an estimated 2,000 shops and business establishments remained closed throughout the day.

UNITED NATIONS — Despite the dramatic Jerusalem development, Arthur J. Goldberg, United States chief representative at the UN said that he felt there were "positive developments" in the Middle East that may lead to an eventual settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

SAIGON — After a confused and faulty start on Sunday, nine of the 10 civilian candidates for the South Vietnamese presidency adopted a wait-and-see attitude toward any future campaigning under government sponsorship in the outlying regions.

SPORTS

Schedules for both the Boro Hot Stove League's All-Star day and the UAW's Benefit Day on Saturday were announced yesterday. Playoff dates and sites for Boro championship teams were also revealed. Page A6.

A doubleplay on a flyball in the seventh inning preserved a 1-0 victory for Betts Machine over Warren Auto Clinic in the nightcap of a City Softball League doubleheader last night. In the opener, the Automen edged Sons of Baly, 5-4. Page A5.

Yesterday's Pro-Am Golf Tournament at Conewango Valley Country Club ended in a two-way tie, both in team play and among the competing professionals. Story and pictures on Page A5.

Bill Brock repeated his "big" feature triumph at Warren Sports Speedway on Sunday, but had to be towed across the finish line when another driver intentionally rammed his auto. The "small" feature went to newcomer Ed Scayer of Allegany, N.Y. Page A6.

There's Something Missing

TMO chief photographer Gordon Mahan noticed last evening that the cannon shown below was no longer in front of the monument. He took the photo at right.

Thinking there might be skulduggery afoot, we checked with the borough police, who said they were not aware of any recent cannon thefts.

A further check, this time with parks department head Jim Reier, revealed that the fieldpiece has been gone since last Christmas. The department removed it for necessary refurbishing.

So if anyone has been worried about the missing cannon, he can rest easy. By the time the next Fourth of July rolls around, it will be back in place and ready to provide a grandstand seat, as it did several years ago for young Lynn Merroth (below).

Callup of Troops To be Questioned

BY BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate preparedness subcommittee is seriously concerned that the continuing Vietnam buildup has cut into the nation's military capability for meeting other worldwide commitments, reliable sources said yesterday.

This concern will be expressed in a forthcoming report and may have a direct bearing on how the Pentagon goes about fulfilling President Johnson's new 45,000-troop authorization for Vietnam.

Defense Department and Army officials are examining a number of ways to come up with the new troops, but it already has been officially acknowledged that most additional forces will be existing units of the strategic reserve.

An unanswered question is whether the Pentagon will replace units pulled from this active-duty force, which consists of roughly six divisions kept at home to meet military challenges which might flare up abroad.

A second question is whether the Pentagon can persuade Congress that the nation can safely draw upon the continental-based strategic reserve at all.

Sources say Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate subcommittee, will insist that any reduction in the strategic reserve force be linked to immediate accompanying steps to replace the units in such a way that it would not leave a gap.

Stennis' preparedness subcommittee soon will issue a report questioning the U.S. capability for meeting existing international commitments. The paper will include closed-door testimony last spring by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Stennis and several other ranking congressional leaders last year voiced alarm at the way they felt the strategic reserve was kept below peak readiness in order to turn out men for Vietnam.

The Strategic Reserve divisions and brigades were giving up experienced officers to provide the backbone for new Vietnam-bound units or were assigned to train large numbers of recruits as replacements.

Developer is Sought For Liberty Street

The Liberty Street project for a 160-space parking lot and a two-story commercial building is probably only three months away from final approval.

In the meantime, Warren Redevelopment Authority is looking for a developer—preferably local—to build the building. There have been no definite offers.

One prospect was uncovered last night at the authority's regular monthly meeting. That was Robert Kopf of Liberty Realty, who said he would be interested in the development, but only if he could be assured of a 12 per cent profit on his investment. His plan would see Montgomery Ward using two-thirds of the building for its auto service facility.

Ward's store figured in another discussion by the Redevelopment Authority. The store wants more space for unloading when the parking lot surrounds the rear of the store. Plus Wendelboe, the executive director for the authority, pointed out that the store has a 51-foot area which could accommodate a tractor-trailer rig adequately. The store receives some six trucks per week. The matter could reach court for a decision.

Charles W. Cable, treasurer of the authority, told the authority he chose not to serve any longer. His term has expired. Harry Spiebel was recommended to replace him, but no action was taken.

Stock Exchange To Cut Back Trading

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — The New York Stock Exchange and the American Stock Exchange will close trading today at 2 p.m., an hour and a half earlier than usual, in an effort to trim the huge backlog of paper work in brokerage offices.

Both exchanges will continue the shorter sessions for the remainder of this week. They will maintain the customary opening of 10 a.m.

Keith Funston, president of the Big Board, said yesterday the paper work load results from "the current unprecedentedly high volume of transactions."

Volume at the New York Stock Exchange has been running about 10 million shares daily so far this year, compared with the former record rate of 7.5 million shares a day in 1966.

Last week — normally a dull summer period — volume whooshed to 60.7 million shares, or the heaviest single week in stock market history.

The current predicament brings about the first sustained curbing of Big Board trading since 1929.

With the exception of a single day, this will mark the first See EXCHANGE, Page A2

Protest Staged in Gallery of House

By WILLIAM M. BLAIR

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — A predominantly Negro group from Harlem, N.Y., demonstrated in the House of Representatives gallery yesterday, shortly after the House had adjourned, against defeat of a rat control bill. Violence flared briefly outside the gallery as police sought to clear the demonstrators from the capital.

Later, James Harrell, a Negro leader of the group, said that the demonstrators represented two organizations, Harlem Backstreet Youth and Housing Action Team, Harlem Backstreet Youth, he said, was supported by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Herbert Kramer, OEO public affairs director, said that the youth organization had a $10,633 federal grant through its parent organization, Community Development Corporation. He said the OEO was investigating the matter.

"OEO does not tolerate acts of violence or inciting to violence," he said. He added that Sargent Shriver, OEO director, had issued a prohibition against "any action which threatens public order" on July 20.

Kramer said that there was no record that the "Housing Action Team" was supported with federal money. Nor has any federal money gone to a "Community Council on Housing," he said.

One of the demonstrators at the capital identified herself as Mrs. Bera Niece Sims of the Community Council on Housing. As police herded her and other demonstrators down a stairway into Capitol Plaza she shouted "We declare the independent territory of Harlem."

"We know we no longer belong to the United States government," she said, referring to the fact that Adam Clayton Powell, representative-elect from Harlem has not been sworn in for a new term in the House.

The demonstrators, including a large number of young persons, pushed their way in the gallery shortly after the House adjourned for the day at 2:30 p.m. They chanted "Rats cause riots" as a capital policeman sought to quiet them. "We want a rat bill," they interrupted.

After 20 minutes in the gallery, they filed out into the hall behind the gallery, where several of the demonstrators struggled with police who sought to get them out of the building. The clashes produced blood on both policemen and demonstrators who jeered the police.

Captain James M. Powell, chief of capital police and a deputy chief of the Metropolitan Police Department (District of Columbia) said that eight persons were arrested, including six adult men, one woman and one juvenile.

Kane's Ragweed Battle is Fierce

KANE, Pa. (AP) — There's a war on in Kane.

It's against ragweed and everybody in this McKean County community of 6,000 is trying to pull out as much of that obnoxious weed as they can lay their gloved hands on before Aug. 15.

"That's when ragweed pollinates," said one resident. "You can see your clock by it."

With the deadline a week away the battle intensifies. Children scurry through the streets pulling wagons and burlap sacks behind them and firemen patrol the city with flamethrowers and chemical spraying tanks on their backs.

But what makes the children hurry a little more is the Kane Chamber of Commerce's annual ragweed pulling contest which has as its grand prize a check for $50.

Each sundown the children trudge into town to the official scales. They dump their day's ragweed collection onto the scales and get the official weight recorded on an official scorecard. It's all very official, for sometimes a matter of ounces can mean the difference between victory and defeat.

But last year it wasn't close at all. Thirteen-year-old Cathy McCullough surprised everybody by riding into town with a truckload of ragweed.

"We didn't even bother to weigh it," said John Cliff, editor of the Kane Republican. "We just gave her the prize automatically."

A great deal of rivalry has grown up among the children over the contest. Cathy boasts that she is "going to erase the other. I know a field outside of town that's just filled with ragweed that nobody knows about yet."

The man who thought up the whole thing is Dr. Charles Cleeland, a former president of the Pennsylvania Allergy Association. He said he got the idea from a Methodist preacher who told him that with a "great deal of prayer and persistence" one could get rid of ragweed by pulling it out.

"Most ragweed authorities disagreed," said Dr. Cleeland, sometimes a matter of

2 Policemen Charged With Riot Slaying

By JERRY M. FLINT

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
DETROIT — Two Detroit policemen were charged yesterday with the murder of two young Negroes during Detroit's riots two weeks ago.

The policemen, wearing civilian clothes, were arraigned yesterday afternoon in a Detroit criminal court and ordered held without bail. Their lawyer said the policemen "were not guilty of murder."

More charges in the murder case were promised by the Wayne County prosecutor's office — possibly for tomorrow or Thursday.

Yesterday's charges stem from the finding of three dead Negroes on July 26 in a motel about a mile from the scene of major rioting. At that time policemen said the three had apparently died in an exchange of gunfire between policemen and snipers.

Residents at the motel said, however, that the three men had deliberately been killed by policemen who raided the motel in a search for snipers. Investigations revealed that the three had been killed by a shotgun at close range, probably from inside the motel and most likely in the rooms where their bodies were found.

The killing of the third Negro is still under investigation.

The arrested officers are 28-year-old, who was accused in a warrant of the murder of Aubrey Pollard, 19, and patrolman Robert Paille, 32, who was charged with the murder of Fred Temple, 18, August, who is married and has two children, has been on the police force four years. Paille, who is single, has been on the force two years.

The police and the prosecutor's office were saying little about the case, but residents of the Algiers Motel, the scene of the shooting, have said that early on July 26 policemen raided the motel looking for snipers.

Apparently there were 15 in the raiding party, including private guards, National Guardmen, and state policemen, as well as Detroit policemen.

The residents said they had heard shots coming from the annex of the motel, where the three dead Negroes were staying and were later found. Other witnesses said the men had been taken off into rooms, and then shots had been heard.

One witness said that a Negro had been urged to pick up a knife that a policeman had thrown on the floor. A knife was found near the body of one of the Negroes.

Other residents, including two white girls, contended that they had been beaten by policemen in the raiding party, and a private guard was charged last week with assaulting residents of the motel.

The two white suspects will undergo an examination next Monday in recorder's court, where they were arraigned yesterday before Judge Donald Leonard. The prosecutor must then submit evidence of probable guilt, and Judge Leonard must decide to either release the men or bind them over for trial.

William Calahan, the Wayne County prosecuting attorney, who recommended the warrants against the two policemen, said, "I expect that we will be making additional charges regarding incidents that occurred at the Algiers Motel annex on that night."

Apparently the prosecutor's office does not know at this moment who killed the third Negro, Carl Cooper, 17. Calahan indicated that the charges he expects to bring later this week in connection with the motel killing won't include another murder charge.

The prosecutor's office yesterday also charged two Negroes, Danny Royster, 20, and Charles Latimer, 19, with the murder of a Detroit patrolman, Jerome Olshove, 32, married and the father of two. Police said the two Negroes were caught looting in a store, a scuffle began, and another officer's gun went off, killing Olshove.

Newark Policeman Says CORE Incited

By JOHN HERBERS

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — A Newark jailer who is president of a policeman's fraternal order brought new charges before the Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday that antipoverty workers helped bring about the riots in his city last month.

The jailer, Leonard F. Kowalewski, said that for the past five years the Congress of Racial Equality in Newark had made "vicious" attacks on the Newark Police Department, calling it a Gestapo that was both brutal and sadistic.

One of the CORE leaders who was a chief leader in these attacks, the jailer said, was a man named Robert Curvin. Kowalewski said Curvin was also a director in the United Community Corp., a Newark agency funded by the Office of Economic Opportunity. The witness also complained about the Newark legal service program, which he said provides lawyers for the poor. According to Kowalewski, the lawyers for the agency turn up at unlawful demonstrations to protect the constitutional rights of those involved.

"Who finances this agency?" Kowalewski, who is a member of the Newark police force, was asked.

The federal government, he replied.

Later, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy demanded detailed charges and documentation.

"My knowledge of the United Community Corporation has been limited to seeing these people picket and demonstrate," Kowalewski said.

"That's a good deal different from what you've said previously," Kennedy responded.

Kowalewski's testimony prompted Sen. John L. McClellan, D-N.J., to say:

"These statements you are making indicate that federal funds are being used to encourage, incite riots, civil disobedience, violence and so forth. I should like to get the full facts."

"I think we're entitled to know whether the treasury is supporting with the taxpayers' money organizations that are responsible, directly or indirectly, for these riots."

McClellan was presiding in the absence of James O. Eastland, the chairman, who was at his home in Mississippi. His statement was considered significant

Car Hits Bear in Warren

An automobile operated by Stanley Maines, 33, of 113 Buchanan st., struck a bear last night at the intersection of Pennsylvania ave. e. and Parker st., according to a report by Warren borough police.

The accident occurred at 9:45, police said. Damage to the Maines vehicle was estimated at $250.

Following the accident, police said, the bear got up and ran south toward the United Refinery. A search of the area was made, but the bear had disappeared.

Police said no one was injured in the mishap.

Exchange

time since 1933 that the exchange has been forced to abbreviate its sessions to cope with a glut of paper work in back offices. There were five shorter sessions in 1933.

On May 29, 1961, a Monday, the Big Board closed for one day to catch up with its paper work.

In the boom-and-bust year of 1929, there were nine daily closings and 14 abbreviated sessions resulting from the same problem. At that time, lights in many Wall Street offices burned until the early morning hours as exhausted clerks paged through mountains of paper and then tumbled into hastily-erected cots for a few hours of sleep.

The decision to shorten trading hours was made late yesterday in special meetings by the board of governors at the two exchanges. Together, the Big Board and the Amex account for 91 per cent of all dollar volume transacted on this nation's security exchanges.

At present, there is no way to determine if the shorter sessions will be continued after the next four trading days of this week.

On Thursday, governors of both exchanges will hold their regular weekly meetings. At that time, a progress report undoubtedly will be made to determine the effectiveness of instituting shorter hours.

The Midwest Stock Exchange and the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange, which are the two largest security markets outside of New York, said late yesterday they will reduce their trading hours by 90 minutes for the remainder of this week.

The Midwest exchange operates on the same time schedule as the two exchanges in New York. The Pacific Coast exchange, even with an hour and a half lopped from its trading schedule, will remain open for two hours after stock exchanges close in New York.

Inquiry

because he is chairman of the Senate Permanent Investigations Subcommittee, which has been chosen to conduct the main congressional inquiry into the causes of Negro rioting. Kowalewski, who said he has been assigned to the callbook in Newark police headquarters for the past four years, said also that until the rioting was in its second day, Newark policemen were under instructions not to arrest militant Negroes for disrupting civic meetings and destroying property.

There, he explained, were "unofficial orders, 'not written, but verbal.'"

At one point, McClellan asked whether it was "true that these rioters have become a privileged class in this country? Are they above the law?"

"You can carry a machete through the streets of Newark and not get locked up," Kowalewski said.

Throughout his testimony, the officer maintained that the Newark riot — which was touched off by the arrest of a Negro taxi driver — was planned. "Within half an hour of the time he was locked up, there was a story around that he had been murdered," Kowalewski said.

Kane

"But we're proving here that police — out rageed actually does reduce the pollen content of the air."

Since the project began six years ago Kane has been classified as one of the healthiest places in the nation. For two years it scored a zero on pollen content, according to statistics released by the state Department of Health.

Dr. Clelland conceded that the climate of the area and the fact that it's located in the middle of a forested land has always given the city a low pollen count. But said, "We want to make it healthier."

Senate Doves Urge UN Debate on Viet

By PETER GROSE

(C) N.Y. Times News Service WASHINGTON — Two of the Senate's most influential critics of President Johnson's Vietnam policy, a Democrat and a Republican, called yesterday for a new United States effort to take the Vietnam question before the United Nations.

Senators Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic majority leader, and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky joined in expressing dismay at signs pointing to a further escalation of the war with, in Mansfield's words, "the costs in lives and money being borne preponderantly by us" rather than Southeast Asian allies.

A three-point alternative policy was suggested by Mansfield and endorsed by Cooper in brief statements to the Senate.

Basically, Mansfield urged that the administration resume an initiative, which it is understood had the President's support earlier this year before the Middle East crisis began, to engage the U.N. Security Council in a Vietnam debate.

He proposed that Communist China, North and South Vietnam and representatives of the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, be invited to join in.

A U.S. resolution to this effect has long been pending before the U.N., but no action has been taken on it.

"I believe that the United States resolution, which has been sitting on its bottom in the U.N. Security Council since late January, 1966, should be resurrected by the U.S. on its own initiative," Mansfield said.

At the same time he endorsed a formula presented by Cooper to halt the bombing of North Vietnam and to confine military air action to the interdiction of the Communist's supply lines to the area of the demilitarized zone at the 17th parallel.

Finally, Mansfield called for a speedy construction of a defensive barrier at the southern edge of the demilitarized zone to block infiltration routes.

State Department officials said the Mansfield-Cooper statements met with no opposition "in principle" inside the administration. But the officials said a new initiative at the U.N. was not under active consideration at the moment.

Mansfield is reported to have discussed the possibility of Security Council action with President Johnson, Secretary General Thant and Arthur J. Goldberg, the U.S. representative at the U.N., for months. At one point he said he found "intense interest" at the White House in this approach.

The outbreak of war between Israel and her Arab neighbors in June suddenly commanded the full energies of the U.N., however, and the Vietnam proposal was sidetracked.

Cooper supported Mansfield in urging the administration to place the Vietnam question before the Security Council "without any reservations whatever."

Sauer Grapen?

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — Stern magazine, legally barred from publishing memoirs of Svetlana Alliluyeva, said yesterday it had no intention of doing so anyway because, it stated, they are too boring.

West German rights to the authorized version of the memoirs of Joseph Stalin's daughter have been bought by the magazine Der Spiegel for $120,000. Last Friday it obtained a court injunction to prevent Stern from publishing the unauthorized version, which Stern said it got from Soviet sources.

Fire-Damaged Ship To Start Home Soon

MANILA (AP) — The aircraft carrier Forrestal, damaged by fire and bomb explosions that killed 132 Navy men off Vietnam, is tentatively scheduled to start its long voyage home on Friday, a spokesman at the Subic Naval Base reported yesterday.

Search for Missing Girard, Pa., Girl

GIRARD, Pa. (AP) — Searchers combed a swampy area near here yesterday for a little girl who disappeared after cashing a $2 check given her on her 12th birthday.

The girl's blue, two-wheeled bicycle was found in a clump of bushes a short distance off a road about one-half mile from her house. Beside it lay a bag containing fishing equipment and candy she had purchased with her birthday money.

State police said they have not determined if the child met with foul play. "She may have wandered off," a trooper said.

Asked if the child could have ridden the bike in to the brush, he said: "I doubt it. It's pretty rough around there. It looks like it was carried back and then thrown into the brush."

Connie Rae Carstater of Albion, R.D. 1, was wearing dark brown slacks, a white tee shirt and was barefoot when she disappeared Sunday afternoon. Her mother, Janet, separated from her husband, notified state police when she failed to return home after two hours.

The youngster turned 12 Saturday and went to a grocery store about three miles from her home to cash her birthday gift and make the purchase.

About 200 men recruited from fire companies, the sheriff's office and state and local police searched the area. During daylight, an airplane and helicopter aided. Bloodhounds and German Shepherd tracking dogs also were being used.

Police described the area as heavily wooded and swampy. They said there was no sign of a scuffle. A resident near the search area reported hearing a child cry out Sunday but police could not determine if it was the missing child.

Vietnam Candidates Will "Wait and See"

By PETER BRAESTRUP

(C) N.Y. Times News Service SAIGON — Nine of the ten civilian candidates in Vietnam's presidential race last night took a wait-and-see attitude toward further campaigning under government auspices in the hinterland.

After an abortive start Sunday, there was considerable confusion here over the future of the campaign schedule that was to take 22 presidential and vice presidential candidates on a joint tour of 22 cities and towns in 22 days. The election takes place Sept. 3.

The hinterland swing began Sunday as 18 civilian candidates flew north aboard two military transports to Quang Tri province, just below the demilitarized zone.

But no one was at Dongha airport to meet them. Infuriated, the candidates flew back to Saigon, leaving behind a waiting crowd of 1,000 in Quang Tri City.

"This was sabotage by the government," said Vu Hong Khanh, 60, a presidential candidate, at a protest meeting yesterday in Dienhong palace in which nine of 10 civilian tickets were represented. The military ticket — Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, chief of state and presidential candidate, and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, his running mate — sent a campaign spokesman, Nguyen Van Loc, to the meeting.

Loc told the civilians, "I have no authority to solve this problem. But I want to convince all of you that no sabotage was involved."

This drew sharp retorts from several candidates. Truong Dinh Dzu, the self-styled peace candidate, said, "They are lying. The foreign press were witnesses. They are lying."

The civilians issued a cautiously worded communique which, essentially, put it up to the government to redress the situation.

Armed Robbery At Erie Causes 3-State Dragnet

ERIE — A tri-state dragnet has been thrown out for an armed robber who held up a Peach Street drug store Sunday night and made off with about $500 in cash.

The robbery was staged about 9:15 p.m. at Eckerd Drug Store, 3530 Peach, just fifteen minutes before closing time.

Emmett Zollinger, assistant manager of the store, was called to an office at the rear of the store by an unidentified white male. Zollinger said the man was inquiring about a bad check when he suddenly pulled out a small revolver and ordered the manager to sit down or "I'll blow your head off."

The robber then pulled a small brown paper bag from his pocket and told Zollinger to empty the drawer into it. The drawer contained $500 in change and bills. Most of the week's receipts were locked in the safe.

The assistant manager described the robber as being well dressed, wearing a dark suit with an open collar. He said the man was good looking and fairly tall.

Witnesses on the scene said the hold-up man escaped in a two or three-year-old white compact car and was last seen heading toward Glenwood Park.

Jamestown Youth Dies in Freak Mishap on Rt. 17

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — Chautauque County registered its first highway fatality for the month of August when a youthful motorcyclist died in a freak mishap on Route 17 at Sheldon Mall near Bemus Point.

Police said Craig Allen Penhollow, 16, of 104 Hazeltine ave., Jamestown, died of multiple injuries when his cycle hit the rear of a car driven by Sigfrid Thorenson, 60, of Point Stockholm, who was stopped on Route 17 to make a left turn.

The impact of the cycle and the car threw Penhollow into the path of a southbound car driven by Dale Bradley, 18, of Knox, Pa. The Bradley vehicle ran over the motorcyclist, according to police.

General is Wounded As Copters Go Down

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas shot down five U.S. troop-carrying helicopters in a battle near Saigon late yesterday and wounded an American brigadier general who set his own helicopter down in an attempt to rescue two of the troops.

"A hail of automatic fire engulfed us, tracers flying all over the place," said Brig. Gen. John F. Freund, who won the Bronze Star in Vietnam three years ago. The craft took off again immediately without picking up the two soldiers.

Freund, 49, commander of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade, was directing an assault by U.S. troops and South Vietnamese rangers on a suspected enemy position seven miles north of Saigon.

Enemy gunners popped from foxholes, firing a curtain of bullets at the helicopters. Freund said one of the helicopters was destroyed but the other four reached safe landing areas and would soon be back in operation.

Freund, a native of New York City whose family lives in Vienna, Va., suffered a broken lower right leg.

Freund was decorated in September 1961 after he averted a bloody clash between South Vietnamese troops and rebellious tribesmen who had taken 60 Vietnamese prisoners.

Local Accidents Cause $2,000 Total Damages

State police of the local substation investigated three accidents yesterday afternoon which involved a total of more than $2,000 damage to the vehicles involved.

An accident at 4:15 p.m. caused an estimated $125 damage to two vehicles according to police.

Police said the mishap occurred when a car driven by Carl Lucas Pillar 17, of R.D. 1, Tidouate, sideswiped a car operated by Alfred D. Varano, 56, of 601 Soose road, Pittsburgh, about one-half mile north of Tidouate on Route 62.

No one was injured in the mishap, according to police.

At 5:50 p.m. a car operated by William Edward McArdle, 39, of 5915 Sharon drive, Lakeland, Fla., ran a stop sign at the intersection of Route 62 and Route 6 on Brokenstraw, according to police. The McArdle vehicle struck a car operated by Rita G. Lindgren 25, of Box 143 Irvine.

Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $320. No one was reported injured in the accident.

Another accident at 5:20 p.m. caused an estimated $1750 damage to two vehicles, police said.

The accident occurred in Tionesta when a car operated by Gaylord Dickinson, 51, of Tionesta, traveling east on Route 6, made a left turn into the path of a vehicle operated by Clarence Ramsburg, 47, of Baltimore, Maryland, police reported.

Police said there were no injuries in the accident, which caused an estimated $1,000 damage to the Dickinson and $750 damage to the Ramsburg vehicle.

Soviets Seek Base In Republican Yemen

ADEN (Agence France-Presse) — The Soviet Union was reported yesterday to have asked to establish a military base in Republican-controlled territory in Yemen.

The report said the Soviet Union had offered the regime of President Abdullah Al-Salal direct military aid in exchange for facilities at the airport of Janad, about 14 miles from Sana, the Republican capital.

If the report is true and Al-Salal accepts the proposal, it would mean that Moscow would have won its first military foothold in the South Arabian Peninsula, with possibly far-reaching political repercussions.

The Soviet Union was said to have made the proposal during a visit to Moscow by the Republican deputy premier, Abdullah Guezilan.

Until now, Soviet military aid to the Republicans has been channeled through Cairo, which has been backing the Yemeni government in the civil war against Royalists, who are supported by Saudi Arabia. One aim of Guezilan's visit was reported to be to persuade Moscow to supply the aid directly.

Observers here believe the report is part of a bid by Al-Salal to strengthen his position in a dispute with President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, who, according to reliable sources here, plans to oust the Yemeni leader soon.

It was believed that the Yemeni president thought that Cairo would be less inclined to depose him if he were to become directly involved with Moscow.

The observers said that Al-Salal's ouster would remove an obstacle to ending the five-year-old Yemeni civil war. At the meeting of Arab foreign ministers in Khartoum, the Sudan, last week, the Egyptian representative declared that Nasser wanted to end the war.

Phone Strike in New York State Said Spreading

NEW YORK (AP) — A strike by telephone servicemen spread throughout the state yesterday, but the New York Telephone Co. said most service was unaffected.

A special state mediator was appointed. Negotiations broke down Sunday night.

A spokesman for the striking AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America predicted "a long, drawn-out strike."

It started a week ago as a wildcat walkout in Brooklyn, after a phone booth coin collector was shot in a robbery in the mostly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant section.

The workers demanded protection or assignment in pairs when sent into high-crime areas. As the walkout spread, the company suspended three union officials and the strike got union backing.

Riot Legislation Topic at Harrisburg

HARRISBURG (AP) — Sponsors of proposed civil rights legislation now before the House were reported yesterday preparing technical amendments, none of which would alter the basic intent of the bills.

House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson Jr., said he understood the amendments were being drafted for insertion before the measures are brought to a final vote.

"The amendments are technical in nature and would not change the bills appreciably," the Allegheny County Republican said. "We still hope to pass the bills on Wednesday."

The Republicans and the Democrats postponed caucusing on the bills until today in order to clear several minor pieces of legislation from the House calendar.

A package of six civil rights measures—three proposed by the Shafer Administration and three by Negro Rep. K. Leroy Irvis—occupied the spotlight in the legislature this week. Key bills in the package would extend the present open housing law to cover the sale of private homes and authorization for the Human Relations Commission to investigate racial unrest.

Shunted aside, at least temporarily, was the governor's proposed $267 million tax program blocked for more than two months by Democrats, although Budget Secretary Arthur F. Sampson Jr. said over the weekend that a break could be expected soon. Sampson did not elaborate.

Donaldson said he was not aware of any agreement reached on the tax program, and his Democratic counterpart, Rep. Herbert Fineman, D-Philadelphia, added that he had not discussed the taxes with the administration in several weeks.

The House, by a vote of 190-9, concurred in Senate amendments to a bill that would prohibit landlords in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Scranton from evicting tenants who withhold rent under the state's Unfit Dwelling Law.

Under present law, a tenant in any of the three cities may put his rent into an escrow fund if the local health department terms the dwelling unfit, but he is not protected from eviction. As passed by the House, the bill would have extended the law to cover all municipalities, but the Senate limited the measure.

"It's shocking to me that we forget the impoverished citizens in this commonwealth who are forced to live in housing unfit for human habitation," said Rep. John R. Galley Jr., D-York, who voted against concurrence.

In the Senate, legislation inspired by the recent racial rioting in many of the nation's larger cities was introduced by two Philadelphia area lawmakers.

One bill, sponsored by Sen. Clarence D. Bell, R-Delaware, would provide stiff fines and jail terms for persons who hurl explosives such as Molotov cocktails. Another measure, offered by Sen. Lawrence Coughlin, R-Montgomery, would provide severe punishment for anyone hindering firemen in the performance of their duties.

Negro Elected Officials To Hold Meeting

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — Negroes who hold elective offices ranging from U.S. senator to board of education member have been invited to a national conference next month at the University of Chicago to form a bipartisan council of Negro elected officials.

The invitations were sent to a list of 492 statewide officials, judges, state legislators, city councilmen and school board members compiled by the co-chairman of the conference, Manhattan Borough President Percy E. Sutton and California State Senator Mervyn M. Dillman.

The two men said that they believed the list included every Negro elected to local, county, state or federal office. The top names on the list are the only Negroes holding elected statewide office—U.S. Sen. Edward Brooke, a Massachusetts Republican, and Connecticut State Treasurer Gerald Lash, a Democrat.

The three-day conference, which will begin Sept. 29, was planned last week by 28 elected Negroes who met at the University Center for Continuing Studies.

"The purpose of the conference," Sutton said yesterday, "is to begin an upgrading of elected Negro public officials. We will share past legislative and administrative experience. . . . build a dialogue and explore positions on issues such as discrimination, riots, housing and welfare."

Faked "LSD Party" Solemnly Condemned

By DAVID BINDER
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
FRANKFURT, Germany — The young reporter wanted to tell readers of the Frankfurter Rundschau what it was like to "take a trip" with LSD but instead he was taken for a hilarious ride by Pardon, West Germany's leading satirical magazine.

The tale came out in this month's issue of Pardon, which, like the reputable newspaper, is published in Frankfurt.

It started last March when Dieter Grabner approached some of Frankfurt's notorious Provos, a group of youths who, as their name indicates, like to provoke the public. On behalf of the Rundschau the 28-year-old Grabner offered Gerhardt Gotze, 19, the equivalent of $75 to stage a Provo LSD party for the purpose of a journalistic expose. LSD is apparently unknown among the Provos of Frankfurt and, according to the police, no single case of its use has yet appeared here. But Grabner seemed not to know this.

Instead of obtaining LSD, Gotze went to the editorial offices of Pardon, where he encountered lively interest. The Pardon editors took over the party project. They turned an editor's apartment into a facsimile of a dope den. Then they trained seven editors—including two of their wives—to stimulate LSD users in full swing.

The party was a roaring success, in the view of Pardon, and a shockingly "dangerous trip" according to Grabner's headline.

What Grabner did not realize was that instead of swallowing LSD—impregnated sugar, as he later reported, the celebrators ingested only small pieces of blotting paper. Nevertheless he reported credulously of a near suicide, a partial disrobing by one of the women, an attempted strangulation and his own close call with a man who kept yelling at him, "Kill the pig."

Pardon's co-publisher, Hans A. Nikel, wore a Ku-Klux-Klan mask throughout the party, pretending to be a "very important person." In reality he felt obliged to disguise his identity since he formerly worked for the Frankfurter Rundschau. When it was over Pardon's editors thought they had probably laid it on too thickly and expected nothing more. But 10, Grabner had gulped it all down. On June 11, the Rundschau gave his report a full page and published pictures with it. Even to this day Grabner can hardly believe it wasn't a real LSD party. He said so to friends.

Pardon had fun putting out its version of the "trip to dreamland" this month. It devoted nine pages to the ride and riding of Dieter Grabner.

Damage $500 in Borough Mishap

Warren Borough Police investigated a two-car accident at the intersection of Pennsylvania ave. e. and Oak St. yesterday afternoon which caused an estimated $500 damage to the vehicles involved, police said.

The accident occurred at 1:29 when a car operated by Paul McElhattan, 36, of 161 Weller road, struck a car operated by Carl L. Lindberg, 59, of 1410 Pennsylvania ave. e., according to police.

Police said the McElhattan auto struck the Lindberg car on the left side as McElhattan was attempting to turn onto Pennsylvania ave. from Oak St.

No one was reported injured in the mishap.

Humphrey Says U.S. Commitments Urgent

By FRED P. GRAHAM
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
HONOLULU — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey warned yesterday of "catastrophe" if the United States withdraws from overseas commitments to concentrate on easing racial unrest at home.

Speaking to more than 2,000 people at a luncheon session of the American Bar Association convention, Humphrey said "if there is any hope for law and order in the world it's not to fold our tent and leave the battlefield."

He departed from his prepared speech on several occasions to disassociate himself from the pronouncements of those who have insisted that the U.S. cannot alleviate urban blight as long as the Vietnam war continues to soak up funds needed for domestic programs.

"People say the Vice President proposes billions more . . . that isn't what the Vice President's talking about," he said. He warned against a reliance upon "checkbook solutions" which he said have been tried on the domestic scene "and haven't always worked."

This statement brought Humphrey the longest round of applause of his 45 minute address.

He received another long burst of applause when he called for firm measures to restore order. He said:

"Men schooled in the law know that no nation can tolerate flagrant disregard for the law. You know, and I know, and the rioters themselves must know, that the riots will be suppressed."

"Order must and will be restored. Riots must and will be stopped. Those malicious individuals who spark disorders will be found and prosecuted."

Humphrey blamed the riots on the poverty and alienation of urban Negroes and urged the lawyers to work for legal and economic reforms.

The Valley of Yesterday

Just a little over one hundred years ago, in a holocaust of frenzy, a small section of Western Pennsylvania boiled with a tempest of greed and speculation as the world's first oil fields gushed forth their fabulous millions.

This section was the Oil Creek Valley of 1860 — the Klondike, the El Dorado, the Virginia City of its day.

And from the standpoint of wealth produced, this "strike" ranked second to none among these more famous bonanzas. For while the gold and silver rushes, at their best, were limited to a few thousand rounders the early oil fields of our state attracted a wide variety of fortune hunters by the thousands upon thousands. The Oil Creek Valley was their pivotal center.

Towns sprung up in almost every cleared field between Titusville and a hastily-built shanty town at the mouth of the stream that eventually came to be named Oil City. Boom towns whose populations grew from nothing to the thousands in a matter of a few weeks or months. Pine-board mushrooms, they were, their names — Miller Farm, Schaffer Farm, Funkville, Tarr Farm, Rynd Farm, McClintockville — merely denoting on whose ground the structures rose.

Poor men became rich, rich men became poor. Fortunes fluctuated according to the roll and swell of the financial riptide called "the oil market," and some of the best producing strikes were almost worthless, because of the price of oil at the time they were drilled in.

Nowhere in the world had there been anything like it before, and there have been few more spectacular booms, either in oil or other resources, since its time.

Yet for the past one hundred-plus years the area has been neglected, almost forgotten. The buildings of the boomtowns, with but a few exceptions, have rotted or burned away, and Nature has buried their remains beneath a lush growth of second-growth forest. Little more than the memories of this fabulous valley exist today.

So the announcement that a move is underway to establish an Oil Creek Valley State Park is heartening. More than 7,000 acres of its historically important ground has been designated for acquisition, several hundred acres of which has already been assembled by the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy, the agency sponsoring the project.

Yet much of the credit for generating interest in the proposed park must go to James B. (Pithole) Stevenson, a Conservancy director, publisher of the Titusville Herald, and chairman of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission. Stevenson created much interest in early oil history when he developed the site of the famed Pithole City at his own expense, then later transferred it to the Commonwealth as a gift.

Secretary of Forest and Waters Maurice Goddard will meet with Oil Creek property owners Thursday (August 10) at the Cherrytree Elementary School near Titusville to detail the planning being done for the project.

MASON DENISON

Rather Choosey Position

HARRISBURG — Indications continue to mount pointing to a legislative session extending into the fall — and possibly beyond.

This is not to say the Legislature necessarily will be "in session" during such an extended session — but rather "in being" via recess without final adjournment.

The prospect is being bruited about by anti-administration Democratic lawmakers — which in itself is rather interesting in view of the fact that they control neither the House of Representatives nor the Senate.

However, administration Republicans are in little better shape, having only the exact number in the Senate (26) to control activity in that chamber, and only one above the required 102 in the House — which leaves legislative Democrats in a rather choosey and perhaps decisive position inasmuch as it's almost impossible for Republicans to count on having their full bloc on hand (due to absences for one reason or another).

True, legislative Republicans haven't the slightest hankering to roll around Harrisburg any longer than absolutely necessary (a view held similarly by the Republican Shaffer Administration) but what they "hanker" for and what they may have to face may be two entirely different things in the end.

Reason is that in view of the fact that neither House nor Senate may adjourn without the consent of the other — in fact neither can recess for more than three days without the other's consent — the ball may not result exclusively or critically in GOP hands in the final analysis.

Actually, the current 1967 session, although the legislative gents (and ladies) have been sitting at their desks for some seven months, has been anything but spectacularly productive so far; in fact the record has been one of the sorriest in many a year from this standpoint.

And actually too — much, much remains on the agenda of administration Republicans (and Democrats) that has been classified as "of major importance" but upon which no final action has been taken; in fact in most instances the action has been limited to one chamber or the other.

While legislative Democrats may be the ones in the final analysis to hold the Legislature in existence into the fall months, administration Republicans seemingly would have equal cause for "desiring" to continue — if the record of the administration's legislative program were to be the guide or determining factor.

For example, of some forty bills the Shaffer Administration has classified as "major administration bills," only four have been passed by the Legislature and sent to the Governor. This most certainly is not too impressive a record.

There is the fact though that of nearly two-score administration legislative gems that as yet have failed to find legislative clearance, only two bills have been passed by the Senate and sent to the House where they have reposed in the no-action as yet bin. Similarly only two of these major administration bills have passed the House and are awaiting Senate action.

Thus in essence it would seem that administration Republicans too would be in favor of continuing — theoretically — the legislative session in the hopes of gaining passage of pet administration bills.

This isn't quite the way it works however. An administration — the executive branch — is always reluctant to see the legislative branch in session, especially a long session, and particularly when the opposition has a "toehold" as in the present case with Democrats.

Such a situation usually results — it already has in the case of the present session — in embarrassing and awkward incidents breaking into the open between the two branches of government, invariably to the losing side insofar as the administration is concerned.

tributed starting with the year in which the self-employed person reaches age 70½.

If you have employees, you must calculate the tax angles with utmost care. If you are in a lower income bracket, the tax benefits will be much less attractive. If you are a young professional or businessman, freezing funds for your retirement 30 or more years away can be a great burden.

Do this: check all the aspects applying to you with a qualified authority and or an institution offering a self-employed retirement plan. Do it in light of the liberalized law.

'DAMN THE TORPEDOES! FULL SPEED AHEAD!'

Administration Charged

WASHINGTON — Disturbing whispers have leaked out that the Johnson administration has not done all it could to arrange better treatment for American prisoners in enemy hands.

One high official complained to this column that prisoner problems have been given a low priority at the State Department. He quoted Secretary of State Rusk as telling aides that the captured Americans are not prisoners but hostages, that the Communists would demand a quid pro quo for treating them decently and that he had no intention of granting any concessions.

In the Pentagon, the brass-bound generals are so embarrassed over the unilitary-like behavior of a few captives that they have slammed the lid shut on all prisoner information. The prisoners' families have been warned not to talk to reporters lest the slightest publicity be used against the captives to increase their torment.

Actually the North Vietnamese are sensitive to world opinion and probably take better care of the publicized prisoners. The great Pentagon hush-up seems to be aimed less to protect the prisoners than to protect the authorities from criticism.

Perhaps to quiet the critical stirrings, the State Department has prepared a white paper on prisoners which will be published later this month. It is the work of George H. Aldrich, a legal counsel, who has summarized U.S. efforts to reach prisoner agreements with North Vietnam.

It is true, as the white paper will point out, that the United States has made repeated overtures through a dozen different channels to arrange prisoner exchanges, to get Communist prison camps inspected by neutrals, to secure better treatment for American POW's and to obtain more information for their families.

Ambassador-at-Large Averell Harriman has been assigned the responsibility for solving prisoner problems. Officials have confided to this column that he is merely the front man. The real work is handled on a part-time basis, they say, by Frank A. Steverts, a functionary in Under Secretary Nicholas Katzenbach's office.

However, this is vigorously denied by Harriman's office. An aide claims the veteran diplomat spends half his time on prisoner matters and that a dozen men in the State Department are working almost full time on the assignment.

Before Abba Schwartz was forced out as the State Department's security chief a year ago, he had developed excellent pipelines through the Swiss bankers and International Red Cross to check on the prisoners.

The bankers, who loaned money to both North Vietnam and Cambodia, visited both countries regularly. They gladly inquired about prisoner welfare and requested information about specific prisoners.

MAX LERNER

Havana and Black Identity

(Substituting for Joseph Alsop)

The get together of the redder-than-the-reds Latin-American revolutionaries at Havana (OLAS) achieved a doubtful place in history when its chief publicity came from a youngster called Stokely Carmichael who is neither a Communist nor a Latin, although he insists that he is the genuine article as a revolutionary. What Castro gave Carmichael, by making him the star of a meeting of the "Organization of Latin-American Solidarity," was a chance to glitter in this supranational setting on a hemispheric scale, after having lost his job and much of his standing among American blacks. What Carmichael gave Castro was a chance to link his Latin-American guerrilla operations with the black ghetto riots in the United States, thus establishing Castro as a double threat to Washington.

I doubt whether either of them got much out of the exchange. The Castro field revolutionaries in the mountains of Venezuela, Colombia, Bolivia, Guatemala, and Peru will not be helped by the declarations of a young American Negro without either an organization or power. Nor will the task of achieving either Negro identity or power in the United States be helped by having Castro link it with the guerrilla operations in Latin America that are too adventurous even for the Soviet Union.

If Carmichael is trying to say to young American blacks that their hope lies with the little mountain bands in Latin America, and with their capacity to bring down the governments there and embroil the United States in "new Vietnams," he is cruelly deceiving them. This is the wrong battle for American blacks, at the wrong time, in the wrong place, with the wrong allies.

Wrong or right, the young

To queries about specific persons, Hanoi usually responded that the prisoners were alive and were being "treated with humanity." In some cases, an exchange of mail was generated. The letters from the POWs, interestingly, have been postmarked in various places — Hong Kong, Geneva and other international centers. More than one letter, however, has actually been postmarked in the United States.

Schwartz's contacts, it should be stressed, were never permitted to visit the POW camps. Formal requests from the International Red Cross to inspect the camps were also turned down. The North Vietnamese contended that the captured Americans were "war criminals," therefore not entitled to the protection of the prisoner-of-war convention.

Meanwhile, Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn., started after Schwartz's scalp for refusing to play spy games with the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, and prevailed upon President Johnson to reorganize Schwartz out of the State Department.

Thereafter, Schwartz's contacts were neglected, and the government's interest in prisoner problems seemed to wane. Some contacts were kept up, of course, often by private individuals. Schwartz, for example, continued as a private citizen to seek information for prisoners' families. Sanford Gottlieb, director of SANE, spoke to Viet Cong representatives in Algiers about prisoners.

Ambassador Harriman also flew to Geneva in May, 1966, to try to promote a prisoner exchange through the International Red Cross. This and other efforts have failed.

At last count, 189 Americans were reported to be held by the North Vietnamese, another 20 by the Viet Cong. But many of the 481 American servicemen listed as missing may also be captives.

Differing reports have been received as to the number and locations of the prisoner camps. The Swiss bankers were told that there are four compounds, all in the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

What troubles the Pentagon, in particular, is evidence that some prisoners have been subjected to inhuman psychological torture in order to extort phony confessions from them. The armed forces have learned the hard way from the Communists what happens to a man reduced to a state half animal, half human, battered with lies until the truth is wholly unreal, tormented by evil men whose morbid genius is almost beyond belief.

Apparently this had been the fate of Lt. Cmdr. Richard Stratton, for one, who was put on display by his Communist captors. He behaved like a robot, bowing deeply on command, otherwise standing motionless, eyes blank.

A French observer described the episode as "a frightening experience."

The New World Revolution

The conference recently concluded in Havana raises a number of questions, it is perhaps only interesting to historians to dwell on the question of whether President John F. Kennedy let us down during the October 1962 crisis. It seems clear from the present perspective that he did, and we have it from no less an authority than Nikita Khrushchev that it is his judgment that the Communists won the greater victory — by extracting from Mr. Kennedy the pledge that, in return for removing the provocative missiles, the United States would not move again against Fidel Castro.

Castro quieted down for a bit, pouted a good long time against the Soviet Union, flirted with Maoism, but appears now to be back in pristine revolutionary humor, inveighing against the United States and threatening the conquest of the hemisphere. An idle boast, one imagines. But it is difficult to dampen the enthusiasm of someone who conquered Cuba from his base on a single mountain top. New York, Rio, Buenos Aires don't appear any larger to him from his hold over all of Cuba than Havana did from the Sierra Maestra mountains.

Obviously Castro and the revolutionaries think that they know now how to do it, know now in the sense that they did not know before. Karl Marx's vision of the crystallization of a military proletariat poised by history against a decadent bourgeois-imperialist order cannot sustain practical revolutionaries who know how things in fact are. It has not been possible to recruit for revolutionary activity the proletarian class anywhere in the world.

The cutting edge of the revolutionary sword isn't the factory worker. It is the guerrilla fighter. To the extent that there is a philosophy for the use of such guerrilla fighting, Mao Tse-tung is its prophet, and Che Guevara the principal Western spokesman. The crucial insight of the new revolutionary order is that the West does not know how successfully to cope with the guerrilla fighter who follows patterns similar to those that Castro followed in his march from Sierra Maestra to Havana. The great symbol of the West's apparent impotence is Vietnam.

Castro called for "more Vietnams" in this hemisphere, and Stokely Carmichael promised his help in creating a Vietnam within the continental limits of the United States, Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, and Venezuela are the principal Latin American targets. And the conference ended with the high optimism that marks the meetings of men who are confident that they have discovered the keys to the universe.

Who knows, they may have done so. If in the future they are not required to deal with enemies less corrupt than Batista, or with stronger appreciation of the strategic realities than John F. Kennedy, they have good reason to be optimistic. The world revolution that they envision isn't one which requires its adherence to any specific ideological attachments. It suffices only to hate the right people, and to know which are the appropriate weapons. The old factionalism, the late-night worrying about the battings of one's ideological eyes, seem to these gentlemen to be a silly part of yesterday's preoccupations, engaged in by the hordes of yesterday's unsuccessful revolutions. That is why, no questions asked, an immediate bond of kinship springs up among people who would appear to be unrelated to one another.

What does Castro the Communist have in common with the Detroit rioter? Or with the Philippine Huk? Or the fanatical Egyptian nationalist? And yet they are effectively joined together in common alliance.

The Detroit rioter may not think he is up to anything more serious than helping himself to a free case of beer. But he has become an army of which Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown are the spokesmen. The Cuban peasant may have thought he was merely engaged in protesting the infamies of Batista. But he acquired Castro as his effective spokesman. And before long, people stop worrying about the legitimacy of the spokesman.

Castro has yet to be ratified. So has Mao. So has Kossygin. Brezhnev. It doesn't matter: they deploy their forces, declare them to be in alliance with each other; and indeed something called the world revolution is launched. And unless we learn how to cope with it, it will — as Theodore Sorensen would put it — cope with us.

Anyone for Hamburger?

EDITOR'S NOTE: (While Art Buchwald is taking a few days off, he has begged us to reprint some of his classics. This one, written in 1961, is absolutely true.)

PARIS — I almost had dinner with the Vice-President of the United States, Lyndon B. Johnson, and it was almost one of the greatest evenings I ever spent in Paris.

This is what happened. The Vice-President and his wife had arrived to spend one day and night in Paris and had asked a very good friend of theirs, who also happens to be a very good friend of mine, if he would select a restaurant to give the dinner. My friend called me up and said, "How would you like to have dinner with the Vice-President of the United States and his wife?"

I said it would be nice. "Well, I haven't cleared it with them yet, but I'm sure it will be all right. What restaurant should we dine at?" "Why don't you reserve at Novy's? It's got White Russian music and a nice wild atmosphere."

"Good idea," he said.

Self-employed Retirement

Because of major liberalizations of the Keogh Act of 1962, to become effective starting with 1968, millions of you who are self-employed professionals or businessmen may now find adopting a self-employed pension plan a most attractive way to provide for your retirement needs.

Yesterday's column gave you basic facts. Today's, written with the cooperation of the Research Institute of America, adds vital details.

Q. How do you set up a plan?

A. For most of you, the simple, practical thing to do is to be in with an already existing plan. Many banks, insurance companies, mutual funds and professional organizations have set up master or prototype plans which have been approved by the Treasury as qualifying for the favorable tax treatment explained yesterday. To adopt such a plan, you file a one-page form with the local District Director of the Internal Revenue Service. The Treasury will then separately approve the plan for you.

Another simple move is to adopt a bond purchase plan. To do this, you merely file a one-page form with the Treasury.

Q. What if you want to set up a plan of your own?

A. You must go through the same cumbersome, difficult steps needed to set up a regular employee benefit plan and furnish all the information required by the Treasury. If you tie in with an approved master or prototype plan, most of these requirements will have been taken care of and you won't need to worry.

Q. When should you set up a plan?

A. If you're seeking the full tax reduction in 1968 and want to start to build tax-free earnings on your contribution as soon as possible, you might now start the process of joining a master or prototype plan or creating your own plan.

If you are in the 50 per cent tax bracket, the result of a tax-free buildup at 5 per cent within your pension fund is equal to a 10 per cent buildup outside the fund. Of course, this advantage will be reduced by the tax you must pay when the pension funds are distributed to you.

Q. Must you cover your regular employees?

A. Yes, if they have three years service — with one exception. This exception is for partnership plans which do not cover any partners with a more than 10 per cent interest.

Whether or not employees must be covered is a vital point in your decision on whether or not to set up a plan.

If you have several employees, the cost of providing coverage for them with a contribution of 10 per cent of their earnings more than offset the annual tax saving to you. The only way to be sure about this is to work out the projected figures.

Q. When can retirement benefits be paid out?

A. Most self-employed persons cannot draw benefits before age 59½ without incurring a penalty. Benefits must be dis-

Cooperation Needed

According to a release I recently received from my friend Steve Szalewicz, the Pennsylvania Fish Commission is being petitioned to restore the spring stocking of walleye fry to the Allegheny River and continue its stocking of walleye and muskies in the Tionesta Reservoir.

These petitions, which are being circulated in Tidioute, West Hickory, Oil City and Franklin tend to continue what has been a long hot summer of petition passing directed against the decisions and policies of both the Fish and Game Commissions in various parts of the state. And the very fact that they do exist, and do find sufficient signers to give them credibility, poses the question, "Who (or what) is wrong?"

Now anyone who knows Lud Haller, knows that Lud isn't the type to support a petition unless it supports some worthwhile cause. So when Lud speaks out on the walleye-musky stocking problem that has brought on this current drive for petition signers, he has undoubtedly given the matter much thought.

But in checking out the facts behind the "clipped" stocking program suggested by Haller and supported by the signed petitions, I find the Fish Commission offers what appears to be valid reasons for the reductions that brought about the complaints. Lee Shortess, district supervisor, states that an exceptional demand was created this year for walleye and musky fry because of the many new impoundments stocked by the Fish Commission.

Two of these impoundments, Kinzua Dam and Shenango Dam, both in the northwestern part of the state, drew heavily on the available fry from the hatcheries, Shortess said. It was his opinion that the stocking program would return to normal next season and both the river and Tionesta Dam would be getting the regular amount of baby fishes.

Now what seems kind of odd to me is that there seems to be some basis of misunderstanding between Lud Haller (as a petition signer) and the Fish Commission (Lee Shortess, district supervisor) over the stocking matter. And it seems odd to me that any misunderstanding should exist when these two rational men are practically neighbors, and both are certainly interested in promoting fishing in the Allegheny River and Tionesta Dam. If anything, they should be able to get together and straighten things out.

However, the walleye-musky petitions aren't the only fly in the ointment of public-commission relationships. There are as many areas of discontent among the fishermen and hunters, almost, as there are specific interests among those who sign the various petitions.

This indicates to me that something is wrong. Either the sportsman has lost confidence in the ability of the game and fish commission personnel to supervise his sporting interests, or he has become a selfish individualist who cares nothing for the interests of others. A person who is willing to upset any program that doesn't fit his personal needs.

In the past few months I have been asked to support at least a half-dozen such petitions. But when I contact the concerned agency, asking for an explanation of the matter, I have found in every case that the basis of the action taken was reasonable from an agency viewpoint.

In general, I feel that the "hired" personnel of all of our conservation agencies are trying to do a good job. I am certain that their first thought is to please the sportsman, but in some instances they are hampered by antiquated policies, at other times they must disregard the special interests of the few to better serve the majority. I do not take this stand blindly. Many nationally-known wildlife and fisheries experts support the programs that have been questioned by the petitions I have investigated.

Yet this doesn't mean that I follow blindly the thinking of the various agencies on all matters, either. It took the Game Commission thirty years to do away with the bounty system, and the Fish Commission is already ten years behind in the action they will eventually have to take to balance their trout stocking program to modern day fishing pressures.

The sad fact of the matter is that in all of our conservation agencies the researchers are ten to twenty years ahead of the policy makers, a condition that creates a "frustration" gap, if nothing else. And to add to this frustration, the policy makers create and institute programs without properly educating and informing the rank and file sportsman.

And the worst part of it all is that there's no chance for improvement in sight. Not with new sporting interests -- archery, boating, camping, hiking, and trail-bike riding -- placing much greater demands on the forests and streams that were once the exclusive domain of the hunter and fisherman. If anything, things are going to be tough for some time to come.

Houston Trades Pitcher to Cal

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Jim Weaver, a lefthanded pitcher with their Oklahoma City farm club, was traded yesterday by the Houston Astros to the California Angels for a player to be named later.

Weaver, 28, had a 12-7 record and a 2.65 earned run average at Oklahoma City. He was acquired by the National League Astros in January.

Betts Edge Automen On Doubleplay, 1-0

Betts Machine choked off a Warren Auto Clinic rally in the top of the seventh inning on a double play to escape with a 1-0 victory in City Softball League play last night. Machineist hurler John Berdine had held the Automen in check for the first six frames and was protecting his slim lead when the first half champs loaded the bases with no outs in their last at-bats.

Don Mohney walked to lead-off the inning and an error on an attempted force at second on Doug Sorensen's grounder put runners at first and second. Another Betts misplay loaded the bases, but John Gallagher's ground ball was turned into a force at home to put the Automen in a jam.

CV Pro-Am Tourney Ends in Tie

Two foursomes scored 60's to tie for the team title at yesterday's Pro-Am Golf Tournament at Conewango Valley Country Club and a pair of pros shared top money in individual play.

Both Jack Lumpkin, professional at Oak Hills near Rochester, N.Y., and Frank Commisso, of the Irondequoit Club, also in the Rochester area, carded 70's for first place.

Ken Yount, Niagara Falls pro, led a foursome of G. N. Hamilton, Lou Vescio and Mike Riniolo into a tie for team honors with another group headed by "Babe" Urzetta of Albion, N.Y. Urzetta's teammates were Dr. Arthur O'Connor, Ted Berdine and Emmy Morrison.

Morrison fired the low gross of the day for amateurs, a 72 and Pete Juliano took the runner-up spot with a 74.

Low among the 22 professionals who played the course was Mike Parco of Butler with a 72. Ange Alberico of Springfield, N.Y., took a 73 and CVCC pro Ed Morgante came in with a 74.

Five teams tied behind the above listed foursomes with 62's; pro Arman Lannutti with Pete Juliano, Palmer Davis and Don Conway; Joe Dimino's team of Dave Dahler, Bob Check and Harry Darley and the foursome of pro Jack Johnson, Jim Holding, Rip Burgett and Don Morgan.

Also tied were Ed Golen's team consisting of Bob Blair, Dr. Butt and Bob Ritchie and the Mike Parco foursome of Joe Brindisi, Bob Alexander and Don Dalrymple.

Betts has scored the only run of the contest in the fourth: Dick Thompson opened the frame by drawing a free pass and came home on Dick Chapel's single with an error behind it.

Berdine limited the Automen to three hits to notch the victory, striking out four and walking one. Loser Ken Sorensen was nipped for only two base hits, fanned six and issued just one free pass, that to Thompson.

The evening was not a complete waste for Auto Clinic, as they edged Sons of Italy, 5-4 in the opener of the twin-bill at Carbon Memorial Field.

Doug Sorensen and Joe Font both drove in a pair of runs to spark the Automen's attack and Ken Sorensen hurled the triumph.

Take Opener, Then Settle For Tie in 14 Frame Tilt

CHICAGO (AP) — Donn Clendenon capped a four-run ninth inning rally with a two-run homer for a 6-3 Pittsburgh victory over the Chicago Cubs in the first game of a doubleheader yesterday and then the teams battled to a 3-3, 14 inning tie in the nightcap.

Chicago struck in the ninth inning to tie the second game, which was called because of darkness and will have to be replayed.

Dennis Ribant was breezing along on a one-hitter—Ron Santo's 23rd homer leading off the eighth—and a 3-1 lead in the second game.

John Stephenson opened the ninth with a single and Ernie Banks followed with an infield hit. Al McBean replaced Ribant and Don Kessinger advanced the runners with a sacrifice. Then, Lee Thomas grounded out, scoring a run and bringing on Juan Pizarro.

Billy Williams greeted Pizarro with a single on a 3-2 pitch to tie the game.

Pittsburgh scored twice in the second inning on singles by Al Luplow and Gene Alley and Manny Sanguillen's double. The Pirates added a run in the eighth on Maury Wills' single, two ground outs and Luplow's single. Luplow got six hits for the day.

Pittsburgh's ninth inning rally in the opener, which handed the Cubs their seventh straight loss started against Chuck Hartenstein, who relieved Bob Shaw in the second.

Hartenstein started his own downfall by throwing Wills' slow roller into the Pittsburgh dugout. Then, with men on first and second, Roberto Clemente singled to tie the score at 3-3.

Manny Mota's pinch sacrifice fly off Rob Gardner put the Pirates ahead and Clendenon clinched it with his 11th homer. Pirates scored twice in the first inning on two singles, a wild pitch and Clemente's single.

Chicago, which scored once in the first, went ahead in the third on Williams' 18th homer and a bases-loaded walk to Adolfo Phillips.

The second game will be replayed as part of a doubleheader tomorrow.

Dodgers-Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ron Hunt delivered a two-out single in the ninth inning that drove in the tie-breaking run and then circled the bases on errors by Curt Flood and Phil Gagliano as Los Angeles defeated St. Louis 6-4 last night.

The defeat ended a five-game winning streak for the first place Cardinals.

Wes Parker opened the ninth with a single and after Jeff Torborg and Nate Oliver struck out, Dick Schofield singled. Then Hunt singled to center, scoring Parker and when Flood lumbered the ball, Schofield also scored. Gagliano threw low on the relay from the outfield and Hunt also scored.

Doubles by Flood and Tim McCarver produced the Cardinals' final run. Lou Piniella of the Cardinals.

The Cardinals tied the game in the eighth when Orlando Cepeda singled, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored on Mike Shannon's double. Dal Maxvill singled but Shannon was thrown out at the plate by Lou Johnson.

Johnson stole home on the front end of a double steal in the sixth as the Dodgers grabbed the lead. Al Ferrara had opened with a walk. Johnson singled and the runners advanced on a hunt.

Ferrara scored on a sacrifice fly and Johnson went to third. Torborg was intentionally walked and then he and Johnson worked the double steal.

Four straight singles by Cepeda, McCarver, Shannon and Gagliano produced two St. Louis runs in the fourth. Johnson drove in Hunt with a single in the third for the Dodgers' first run.

Phils-Giants

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jim Bunning pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to their seventh straight victory last night, beating San Francisco 8-0 with a four-hitter, ending the Giants six-game win streak.

It was Bunning's 38th shutout of his career, second among active pitchers. Los Angeles' Don Drysdale leads with 39.

Rich Allen got the Phillies started in the first inning with a two-run homer into the upper deck in centerfield above the 420-foot sign. Allen has 11 runs batted in his last five games.

In the third, Bunning drew a walk from Gaylord Perry, was sacrificed to second and later scored on a force play.

The Phillies knocked Perry out in the fourth, scoring five runs, their fourth five-run rally in three games.

Orioles-Indians

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles erupted for four runs in the seventh inning, two on a Sam Bowens' homer, and whipped the Cleveland Indians 4-0 last night behind the four-hit pitching of Gene Brabender.

Singles by Frank and Brooks Robinson and a sacrifice fly by Paul Blair—who earlier made two spectacular fielding plays—snapped the scoreless tie.

Dave Johnson then doubled to score Brooks and Bowens followed with his third homer over the center field fence.

Brabender, winning his first decision since being recalled from Rochester July 21, struck out 12. Two Cleveland hits came in the eighth inning, but Brabender induced Tony Horton to ground into an inning ending double play.

Blair ran far to his left to grab a short liner by Vic Davalillo in the opening inning and crashed against the centerfield fence after grabbing a fly by Duke Sims in the seventh.

Loser John O'Donoghue matched Brabender through the first six innings, allowing only two hits. The first Cleveland hit came with one out in the sixth when Davalillo singled off Brabender's glove.

Senators-Twins

MINNEAPOLIS ST. PAUL (AP) — Washington's Phil Ortega held the Minnesota Twins to three hits, Ken McMullen homered, and Paul Casanova cracked a two-run double as the Senators blanked the Twins 5-0 last night.

Ortega won his ninth game in 14 decisions and ended a seven-game personal losing streak against the Twins. He struck out seven.

Washington jumped ahead with three runs in the first inning. Loser Jim Kaat, 8-11, loaded the bases, and after Tim Cullen scored on a fielder's choice, Casanova doubled over third base, scoring McMullen and Cap Peterson.

Minnesota failed to get a man on base until the fifth inning. With one out, Bob Allison doubled off Hank Alken's glove in center, but was stranded when Rich Rollins and Ted Uhlaender flied out.

In the sixth, Washington collected two more runs, McMullen lined his 13th homer of the year, 392 feet into the left field stands and Dick Nen singled another run across.

Hurler Richert Rejoins Angels

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pitcher Pete Richert, who completed a two-week tour of duty with the National Guard Saturday, was reactivated yesterday by the Baltimore Orioles.

To make room for Richert, the Orioles placed pitcher Marcelino Lopez back on the disabled list.

Lopez, acquired from California in a June deal, made two starts for the Orioles after spending 27 days on the disabled list with tendonitis of the left shoulder.

ACTION AT LOCAL TRACK SUNDAY NIGHT

Brock Towed to Speedway Victory

There was much action circling the track at Warren Sports Speedway Sunday night as several drivers collided, two took a splash in the pond and one was barred for the season because of deliberate ramming.

Bill Brock was the first to complete the 50-lap Mid-Season Championship race and collect $200 in the "big" feature.

rock led most of the way but was deliberately rammed on the white-flag lap and failed to cross the finish line. The officials conferred and it was decided that Brock was the winner despite the fact that he needed towtruck assistance to cross the finish line. The driver who rammed Brock was Max Blair. The other race drivers requested a meeting to decide how to best handle the situation. Lloyd Lyons copped the second place position and Skip Overbeck ran third.

A new driver from Allegheny, N.Y., Ed Scayer, pocketed $100 as he rounded the track to capture the "small" feature win. Tom Kightlinger picked up the second place position and Skip Overbeck ran third.

In the preliminary events, Gene Hetrick ran first in qualifying with Max Blair battling for second place and Overbeck settling for third. The first semi event was won by Al Delp and Blair rounded the oval for the second semi win.

Tomorrow night the track will run a double program of the events that were rained out last week. Admission will be the same, $1.00 for the extra events.

Sunday night's results were as follows:

Qualifying -- Gene Hetrick, Clarendon, Max Blair, Dempseytown, Skip Overbeck, Sheffield.

First heat -- Albert Delp, Centerville, Gerry Littlefield, Tiona; Bob Delp, Townville.

Second heat -- Tom Smith, Ashville, N.Y., Layfield, Wilcox; Bob Patch, Youngsville.

Third heat -- Glenn Eck, Brocton, N.Y.; Gene Hetrick, Clarendon, Lloyd Lyons, Youngsville.

Fourth heat -- Skip Overbeck, Sheffield; Gerry Littlefield, Tiona; Max Blair, Dempseytown.

First semi-final -- Albert Delp, Centerville; Tom Kightlinger, Titusville; Layfield, Wilcox.

Second semi-final -- Max Blair, Dempseytown, Mike Ehle, Springboro; C. W. Fisk, Jamestown.

CONSOLATION

1. Larry Longwell, Franklin, 2. Dick Sampson, Warren, 3. Bill Brock, Port Allegany.

SMALL FEATURE

1. Ed Scayer, Allegheny, N.Y.; 2. Tom Kightlinger, Titusville, 3. Skip Overbeck, Sheffield, 4. John Weidmaier, Warren, 5. Bob Hall, Irvine.

BIG FEATURE

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three of five Cleveland Browns who held out from reporting to training camp since July 22 will play for the National Football League team the Browns announced yesterday. The other two have been traded.

Returning to the Browns for the season are halfback Leroy Kelly, who last year had the best rushing average and the most touchdowns in the league, and guard John Woole, who started in last year's Pro Bowl game.

Linebacker Sid Williams was traded to the New York Giants for a draft choice or a player to be named later. Tackle John Brown was traded last week to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Defensive back Mike Howell said he will join the Browns in San Francisco this weekend. He said they will talk about the contract there. Howell was the only one of the holdouts to report to camp, but later left. He is completing two weeks training with the National Guard.

Woole and Kelly agreed to pay fines of $1,400 each, figured at a rate of $100 a day for each day missed at the stadium, Ohio, training camp.

However, Kelly said yesterday he was not going to sign a contract.

Kelly had the league's best rushing average of 5.5 yards a carry on 1,141 yards and 209 carries. He finished second in total rushing behind Chicago's Gale Sayers. Kelly had the most touchdowns with 15 and the longest run with a 70-yard touchdown punt at the Atlanta Falcons.

In a statement, Stokes said Kelly will take a 10 percent cut in pay and play out his option with the intention of becoming a free agent. The pay cut is automatic.

All PIAA registered football officials are required to attend, and all area grad coaches are also invited.

Mississippi St. Cagers Slapped for Recruiting

GATLENBURG, Tenn. (AP) — The Executive Committee of the Southeastern Conference placed Mississippi State University's basketball team on probation through the 1968-69 season yesterday after finding the school guilty of violating SEC recruiting by-laws.

In listing three violations by Mississippi State, the committee prescribed the following penalties:

1. The school's "basketball team shall be ineligible for the Southeastern Conference championship for the 1967-68 and the 1968-69 seasons."

2. It also "shall be ineligible to participate in any post-season playoff or post-season tournament for the 1967-68 and 1968-69 seasons."

In taking the action, the committee said that after reviewing information "from the SEC files and evidence presented by representatives" of the University, it had found that representatives of Mississippi State:

— Violated an article in the SEC by-laws which prohibits member institutions from conducting "any athletic practice session or test" at which prospective student athletes "reveal, demonstrate, or display their abilities in any branch of sport."

— Violated an article which states an athletic scholarship "shall give the recipient a written statement of the amount, duration, conditions and terms" of the award.

— Violated a third article which says a member institution may finance only one visit to its campus for a prospective student-athlete and only round-trip transportation costs "by direct route between the student's home and the institution's campus may be paid."

Anderson Takes Bill Simonsen Tourney Trophy

George Anderson carded a 69 to win the William Simonsen Sr. Trophy Tournament at Blueberry Hill Golf Course Sunday. Perry Henry and Bob Blume fired 70's for a second place tie. Fourth place was copped by Jim Porter with a 71, while Lex Larson picked up fifth with a 72 and Louie Carlson settled for sixth with a 73.

There was a five way tie among Glen Valentine, Tony Fazio, Frank Avelline, Al Schenk and John Guthrie for seventh place with all golfers carding 74.

Prizes may be picked up at the Pro Shop from 10 to 5 p.m. any time during the day.

Hot Stove's All-Star, Benefit Days Saturday

Both the Boro and County Hot Stove Leagues hold baseball extravaganzas this Saturday. The Warren loop will play a full slate of All-Star games at War Memorial Field and the Upper Allegheny Valley League has scheduled its Ninth Annual Benefit Day at Wilder Field.

In Boro action, the Eastern Bantam All-Stars meet their counterparts from the Western division at 1 p.m. on the small diamond at War Memorial, while the East Cadet 'Stars face a hand-picked Western Cadet club at the same time on the big diamond near the main gate.

At 3 p.m., an Eastern Midgets vs. Western Midgets game takes over the little field and an Eastern Intermediate - Western Intermediate contest moves onto the big diamond.

UAVL games at Wilder Field also get under way at 1 p.m.

The lineup includes championship games in the county Bantam, Midget and Cadet Leagues. An Intermediate All-Star contest will also be played, with three players representing each team in the loop.

As an added attraction, a game is scheduled between the county Junior League club and an alumni team, made up of former county players 20-years-old and younger.

There will be no admission charge at either field, and hot dogs, pop and ice cream will be available at Wilder.

All-Star lineups and more detailed information on both events will be reported by the TMO later this week.

Boro Hot Stove Playoffs Slated

The playoff schedule for Warren Midgets and Cadets was announced last night by President Bob Pascuzzi.

In the Midget finals, Walker's Creamery, Eastern Division champion, meets Pennsylvania Bank & Trust, Western winners, tonight at 6:30 on the Mulberry Playground Field in the first of a three-game series. The two teams play again Thursday night at North Warren, with the date and site of a third game, if needed, to be announced.

The Cadet finals find Times Square Service, East champs, against Western victors Nelson & Ellberg at War Memorial Field tomorrow at 6:30 p.m., then again Friday night at North Warren.

The state for Intermediate playoffs will be announced as soon as makeup games are completed. AKB Heating has already won the Bantam title, defeating Lewis Market in two straight games.

Hot Stove Results

Chery Breaks Down

Jones Chevrolet broke down last night as Sheffield Rotary whizzed by to a 10-6 win. The win was shared by hurlers Mike Barr and Marion Bell. Andy Moore suffered the loss for Chevy. Barr smashed a round-tripper and Kiel Weigel clubbed a triple to round out action for Rotary. Three-baggers were hit for Chevy by Jimmy Dorochs and Tom Steffan. Moore snagged two doubles for the losers. Sheffield Rotary now carries a 3-2 slate.

AL's Lose Playoff

The Russell 4L's lost last night to Marshall & Atkins in a Bantam playoff duel, 10-0. Andy McGraw allowed only one hit to hurl the win for Marshall & Atkins. McGraw also fanned 17 batters. B. Cable suffered the loss for 4L's. Lenne Styles and McGraw both smashed a round-tripper. Ron McClelland clubbed a triple and McGraw snagged a double to round out action for Marshall & Atkins. Marshall & Atkins finished out the season with a perfect slate of 8 wins.

McNeal No-Hitter

Holster McNeal hurled a no-hitter to lead Bartsch Furniture to victory over Midtown Motors in Bantam division last night, 3-0. McNeal collected a double and a three-bagger for Bartsch. Derek Rapp and Mike Suppa also clubbed doubles for the winners. Bartsch closed out the season with a 7-7 mark.

County Hot Stove Meeting Thursday

There will be a meeting of the Upper Allegheny Valley League Hot Stove Thursday night at 7:30 in the Warren County Dairy Building.

All Community Chairman and managers who will be involved in Benefit Day are requested to be present.

Jets Handle Namath Case

PEEKSKILL, N.Y. (AP) — New York Jets Coach and General Manager Weeb Ewbank said "action has been taken" in the Joe Namath case yesterday but declined to elaborate.

Namath, the club's $400,000 bonus quarterback, left the club's training camp late Thursday night and was seen in New York early Friday morning, the day the team had an exhibition game with Boston.

Namath told Ewbank at the time he left the Jets' camp because of personal matters requiring his attention.

Namath played the first quarter of the game.

Steelers Trim Roster by Six

LA FROPE, Pa. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers asked waivers yesterday on six players, including a quarterback Mike Brunidge of Oregon, to trim the roster of the National Football League team to 56.

Released were center Bob Ophelt, Wake Forest; end Jerry Marion, Wyoming; defensive back Peter Fornish, North Dakota; tackle Harold Lucas of Michigan State and Ray Shirey of Arizona State.

TEACHERS' EXPECTATIONS DETERMINE PERFORMANCE

Stupidity Said Due to Teachers

By JOHN LEO
(C) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK -- Four years ago, Robert Rosenthal, now a 34-year-old professor of social psychology at Harvard, showed that rats performed far better in tests when experimenters were told, falsely, that the rats had been specially bred for intelligence. The same kind of rats consistently turned in poor performances when experimenters were told the animals were dull.

He then began similar tests on school children, with similar results. A random sample of children at a south San Francisco elementary school, predicted to make dramatic gains in school-work, actually made those gains, while the rest of the student body did not. Only the teachers, and not pupils or parents, were given the predictions.

Although, for ethical reasons, no child was predicted to be dull, Rosenthal believes that his tests provide important empirical evidence of the common thesis that many children, particularly minority-group children, turn out dull because their teachers expect them to be dull.

"Pygmalion in the Classroom," the title of his book on the experiments in south San Francisco and other school districts around the country, will be published in the spring by Holt Rinehart and Winston. Dr. Lenore Jacobson, principal of south San Francisco's

Spruce School -- "Oak School" in the book -- will be co-author. Rosenthal said yesterday: "Kenneth Clark (professor of psychology at City College of New York) and others have been saying for a long time that some children are victims of educational self-fulfilling prophecies, but they just haven't been able to come up with data to prove it. We think we have."

About one-sixth of the 650 students at Spruce School are Mexican children, the only minority group enrolled. Mexican pupils are over-represented in the "slow" track of the school's three-track system, and under-represented in the "fast" track.

In the spring of 1964, with Jacobson's permission, Rosenthal administered an IQ test to all pupils in the kindergarten and the first five grades.

Teachers were falsely told that the test would show which pupils were due to "spurt ahead" academically.

PROTESTING ISRAELI ANNEXATION OF OLD CITY

General Strike is Staged in Jerusalem

By TERENCE SMITH
(C) N.Y. Times News Service
JERUSALEM -- The shops and restaurants of the Old and East halves of Jerusalem closed yesterday as the Arab population staged a general strike protesting Israeli control of what was formerly the Jordanian sector of this city.

The strike, which brought all business activity in the eastern half of the city to a halt, was the most dramatic example of Arab resistance to Israeli occupation since the six-day Arab-Israeli war ended June 11.

All of the estimated 2,000 shops and business establishments remained shuttered during the day. Arabs lounged outside the closed shops on the narrow, twisting streets of the Old City, grinning at passers-by as though they were enjoying a private joke.

Israeli authorities kept a watchful eye on the situation. Reinforced patrols of heavily armed so-called border police moved through the Old City. Late in the morning, after rumors of an impending Arab demonstration began to circulate, three jeeps with machine guns mounted between the seats rolled into the area. The demonstration failed to materialize and there were no reports of any incidents.

In the early evening, Israeli soldiers equipped with cans of black paint were seen painting circles with an X in the middle of the corrugated tin doors of every third or fourth shop. No official explanation of the symbol was given.

The strike was called in a mimeographed leaflet signed by "The Committee for the Defense of Arab Jerusalem." The leaflet was circulated in the former Jordanian sector during the last 48 hours.

The motive behind the strike appeared to be as much economic as political. Several of the idle shopkeepers interviewed yesterday in the Old City complained about the high Israeli business and personal taxes they are being asked to pay.

Teddy Kollek, the Israeli mayor of unified Jerusalem, said he had expected some sort of a strike, "though not quite so soon."

"We knew of it last night," he said. "The police called in the leaders of the Chamber of Commerce and advised them not to strike."

The ministerial committee set up to administer policy in the occupied areas met yesterday afternoon in Jerusalem and though no statement was issued, it was understood that no sanctions would be applied against the storekeepers if they reopened today.

It was considered likely, however, that more Arab leaders would be banished from the city.

Highly Dangerous

Chemicals Stolen

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police said yesterday three pounds of highly dangerous chemicals that could cause serious injury or death were stolen from a Pittsburgh warehouse.

Authorities said two containers stolen from the Allied Chemical Corp. were potentially explosive. They warned residents not to touch them if found.

One container held a pound of red phosphorus submerged in water which explodes when brought into contact with air.

That's the size of International Harvester's new truck assembly plant in Springfield, Ohio. To cool this half-mile long, three story building is a big job . . . a job for economical natural gas.

Two natural gas jet turbines drive a pair of 1100-ton centrifugal air conditioning units. A third air conditioner, a 750-ton absorption unit, operates on heat recovered from the turbines' exhaust.

International Harvester chose this particular gas application because it is a real money maker.

International Harvester's plant at Springfield, Ohio, where more than 400 trucks a day roll off the assembly lines. Here, versatile natural Gas provides year 'round climate control. On this production line, natural Gas is also used for cleaning, washing, drying and baking the finish on truck parts.

State Police Investigate 41 Mishaps

During July, 41 accidents were investigated by State Police of the Warren substation. Five were fatal with six lives lost.

Warren County has been the scene of nine fatal accidents with 10 persons being killed. Warren borough has recorded two fatalities.

Sgt. John R. Krupay in releasing records from last month's activities noted that in the tragedy at Kinzua Dam overlook and the drowning in Allegheny River, the local substation was not statistically charged with those deaths.

Criminal files show 53 complaints with 31 actual criminal offenses. Eight complaints were unfounded.

State police responded to 14 requests for assistance which included death messages, illnesses in family and blood relays.

There were 15 criminal offenses cleared by arrest and 19 criminal arrests made. Five vehicles valued at $9,506 were recovered and $460.92 worth of other property.

Eighteen persons were injured and property damage totaled $25,040.

Accidents occurred by day of week as follows: Monday, 7; Tuesday, 7; Wednesday, 5; Friday, 5; Saturday, 5 and Sunday, 8.

Major cases were the Collingwood accident at Kinzua Dam overlook and the Weber drowning in Allegheny River north of Tidioute.

Police officers patrolled 16,600 miles in Warren County during July.

Wallet Takes Trip From Geneva to Pa.

INDIANA, Pa. (AP)—Lee Edwards, who lost his wallet two weeks ago in Geneva, Switzerland, got it back special delivery.

A businessman from Horseheads, N.Y., R. V. Walker, called Lee from the airport Saturday and said he had his wallet.

Walker said his son, Larry, a Vietnam veteran on leave, found it in a taxi in Geneva. The son passed it to the father, who made a special trip to return it to the owner. Everything was still inside, including two blank, signed checks.

Constitutional Campaign Open

Election of delegates to the state constitutional convention will be held November 7, 1967 with the convention to convene at noon on December 1.

There will be 150 elected delegates, three from each senatorial district and 13 members ex-officio with all powers of elected delegates.

In the 25th senatorial district — of which Warren County is a part — delegates will be nominated by conferees named by the county committees, with each political party naming two. Names must be certified to the

Body Found in Lake Erie; Plane Victim

ERIE — A body recovered from Lake Erie Saturday morning was identified Sunday as that of an Ohio man who perished in a plane crash off Ashtabula last December during a snowstorm. The crash occurred shortly after the plane took off from Port Erie airport.

Erie county coroner Merle Wood said the man was Harry Bissell III, 27, of Painesville.

Bissell's body was discovered by Steve Warko of Orrville, Ohio, who was aboard his cabin cruiser at the time.

The plane was piloted by Anthony Farinacci, 32, Madison, Ohio. Other passengers were Christine Buell, 21, Kingsville, Ohio and Marie Nevek, 21, of Akron.

Miss Nevek, a foreign exchange student at Akron University from Munich, Germany, was recovered from the lake on July 27. Her body was found near Conneaut, Ohio.

The bodies of Miss Buell and the pilot are still missing.

Secretary of the Commonwealth no later than 5 p.m. Friday, August 25.

A filing fee of $25 must be paid to the Secretary of the Commonwealth by certified check or money order. The secretary will certify names of nominees to county election boards no later than Sept. 7. A candidate may withdraw his nomination by request in writing not later than 5 p.m. August 30.

Nominations of Independents by political bodies is by petition on forms prepared by the Secretary of the Commonwealth with 500 signatures of registered electors required. Any registered elector — Republican, Democrat, Constitutional party or Independent — may sign not more than two such petitions.

Petitions may be circulated beginning August 26 and filed in the secretary's office no later than Sept. 15. The filing fee of $25 must be paid and a candidate may withdraw his nomination by 5 p.m. Sept. 20. Candidate's affidavits must be secured and information filed with the secretary.

At the November election registered electors may vote for two candidates. The three candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be the delegates from the particular senatorial district. The county election board will certify to the Secretary of the Commonwealth the names of delegates elected and the votes. The secretary then certifies to the Governor the names and votes as cast by November 24 and the Governor then issues the call for convention.

Delegates will take the constitutional oath of office.

Requirements for the post state a delegate must be 21 years of age, a resident and citizen of Pennsylvania four years and have one year's residency in the senatorial district.

The convention adjourns no later than February 29, 1968.

REUNION OF KINZUA RESIDENTS

They came from east, west, north and south for a reunion at Ludlow's Wildcat Park. There were 500 former residents of the village of Kinzua who gave up their homes and businesses to make way for Kinzua Dam. There were folks from Florida, California, Ohio, New York, Oregon and Washington, D.C. ## Kenneth Hale Resigns Post With YMCA

Warren YMCA Youth Director Kenneth Hale has tendered his resignation to accept a call to serve as youth work director of the Roxborough branch of the Philadelphia Association.

The YMCA board of directors regretfully accepted Hale's resignation, because of his excellent work in Warren but expressed pleasure that he has been called to the advanced capacity.

Hale's leadership along with youth work committees has made great strides in such areas as day and resident camps, YMCA Indian Guides and many other functions.

President Richard T. Betts said the personnel and recruiting committee is now reviewing personnel digests in order to bring a recommendation for replacement of Hale to the board.

Clifford Terry, Walter Bergler, Robert Bowen, Thomas Marsh and Robert Newman comprise the personnel and recruitment committee with Betts and Julius L. Thorn as ex-officio members.

County Tax Sale Is Light

Warren County's sale of land for delinquent taxes yesterday turned out to be one of the smallest sales in recent years.

County Treasurer Jack McCool said only 78 parcels of property were sold for a total of $2,876.32. Thirty parcels were not bid on.

"We had a couple of big buyers, or it wouldn't have been as much as it was," McCool said.

The adjourned sale will be held at 2 p.m. on Friday, McCool said. The 30 parcels not bid on yesterday will be offered, as well as any parcels which were sold yesterday and for one reason or another were not valid.

$4,000 FOR CHILDREN'S HOMES

Jacka Says County Turned Down Funds

Warren County's commissioners turned down sharing in $4,000 in federal funds for homes for neglected children because the Hoffman home was to be shut down, the county school district's program specialist told Rotarians yesterday.

Dr. John Jacka said that in addition to funds for schools under the Elementary Secondary Education Act of 1965, $4,000 was allocated to homes for delinquent or neglected children.

"In Warren County," he explained, "there are two homes that care for neglected children — Hoffman Home in Warren, and Ruth M. Smith Home in Sheffield. The only provision was that the directors of these homes approve the programs."

The Warren county commissioners, he said, declined to sit down and discuss the things that could be done. The reason for their refusal was that they were going to shut down the Hoffman Home soon.

There was no response from directors of the Smith Home. Jacka hopes next year a similar amount will be available under the act for Warren County for these homes.

Jacka was introduced by County Superintendent of schools John Mallory Jr., who explained that, with operations of the county schools office tapering off, Dr. Jacka was engaged to work under the title of assistant county school superintendent.

Jacka briefly described the program provided under the provisions of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. Federal funds are allocated to counties throughout the United States on a basis of the number of economically disadvantaged children. In Warren County 428 from families with annual incomes under $2,000, in administering projects, however, they are directed toward children who are educationally deprived, although largely these come from low income groups, quite a few do not.

Warren County's allocation amounts to about $80,000 per year. To determine needs, in collaboration with school authorities, Jacka conducts research, writes the projects, coordinates and evaluates the actual programs, and works with state and federal officials who administer the programs.

Warren County's areas of interest are chiefly Titles I, II, and III of the act. The Summer reading program is funded under Title I. In Area A, covering Warren, Crawford and Erie Counties, a program under Title III has provided for development of a series of tape-recordings for use throughout the entire area, through the co-center at Edinboro, of local and area history.

Dr. Jacka, working out of the County Schools office, is paid by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and therefore serves the Warren County School District at no expense to the district.

Previous to assuming his post for Warren County, Dr. Jacka was with the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, where he evaluated projects throughout the Commonwealth. Previously he was with the Bradford school system. Guest at Rotary was James Simpson, of Philadelphia.

Rotary President Henry Powell announced a meeting of the board Thursday at 8:30. Plans for the Rotary rummage sale for the annual Sidewalk Festival in September were outlined.

July Job Activity Less Than June

Warren County employment picture for July showed less activity than in June, primarily due to several industrial plants being shut down for vacations.

During July, 37 people were placed in jobs, compared with 67 during June, the local state employment office reported yesterday.

A few industrial employees have been laid off here and there, but the number is small. Outside construction remains stable. Manufacturing on the whole is holding up well.

The only increase during the month is in the number of individuals filing for unemployment compensation. About 60 more new claims were filed in July than in June, due to the fact that a percentage of employees who have not worked long enough in their particular plant to receive vacation pay, are eligible for unemployment compensation during the plant shut-downs. During July approximately 230 people each week were collecting unemployment compensation. A year ago about 75 were collecting compensation at this time.

All July, 1967 figures reflect regular summer plant shut-downs.

County Girl Enlists In Job Corps Plan

Andrew Donick, manager of the state employment office here, yesterday said papers are being processed for the first Warren County girl to enlist in the Job Corps. Her name will be announced when this is completed.

The applicant, upon approval, will be allocated to a vocational training center, and given special training in some profession.

Among the skills available are cosmetology or beauty culture, office practice, and other training. Those who have not completed high school are given an opportunity to achieve an equivalency diploma.

JAMES KAHLE
J. Kahle Honored In Florida

Another Warren man serving in the armed forces has been accorded special honors.

James Kahle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Kahle, of 18 W. Third ave., has been named Airman of the Month for July. Airman Kahle has been performing duty in the Ground Control Approach Unit at Hurlburt Field, Florida.

Capt. Donald L. Dehne, commander, said Kahle's demonstrated attention to duty, exceptional efforts towards self improvement and recent suggestions for streamlining work procedures have materially assisted the 2068th Communications Squadron in maintaining outstanding professional reputation and standing presently being enjoyed in the military community.

According to the commander the primary mission of the squadron is to operate and maintain all base telephone communications, local air traffic control, ground control approach, military affiliated radio system and teletype communications networks for the base.

In addition to being selected Airman of the Month, James was awarded a three-day pass and relieved from squadron detail for 60 days.

The local airman is married to the former Margo Thessen of Bradford.

Fire Wardens Hold Annual Picnic

The annual picnic for volunteer fire wardens and their families, from the five counties in Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters Dist. 14, held Saturday at the site of Pit-hole, drew an attendance of 280.

The administrator of the Pit-hole historical restoration project took picnicers on a wagon tour of the area, giving an historical commentary on the famous oil boom town.

Games were provided for all ages. Outstanding contest was a cross-cut saw contest, won by Milton "Bill" York and Lester Utteg from Sugar Grove. Utteg also won the wood-chopping contest, with an axe, chopping an 8 x 8 inch block.

For the youngsters many events included scrambles for four-year-olds, for five-to-sevens, with races for older children.

For the women there was a nail-driving contest.

The committee publicly thanks those who contributed toward the picnic.

Next year's annual volunteer fire wardens' picnic will be at Chapman Dam.

Geneva Man Severely Beaten

MEADVILLE — Gilbert Wheaton, of Geneva, was found severely beaten Friday at the parking lot of Conneautville Nursing Home, where his wife, Ann, is an employee.

State police said Wheaton was taken to City Hospital and then removed to Hamot Hospital, Erie, where he was listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit.

He suffered a scalp laceration and fractured skull, hospital authorities said. City hospital officials said Wheaton was unconscious when he was brought to the emergency room.

Police said the beating is under investigation.

William Rice Named PARWCOC Officer

William E. Rice was elected third vice president of the Pennsylvania Association of Registrars of Wills and Clerk of Orphans Court.

Warren County's register and recorder was also re-elected to the organization's executive committee at the 40th annual convention at Bedford Springs. Charles E. Dimmerling, register of Schuylkill County, was named president.

It was the second time during the past two weeks that state associations have honored Warren County by naming one of its elected officials to state office. The Sheriff's Association elected D. E. Allen Jr., as first vice president of that group.

VACATION IS OVER AND IT'S BACK TO WORK AGAIN, but it follows two weeks of fun and relaxation. I know there are many whose vacations were far more fascinating than mine, but nevertheless mine suited me just fine. I read, traveled (true, not far) and kept house, doing the things I like to do, but don't always have time for, and entertained. My reading included James A. Michener's "Hawaii" — marvelous; a book called "Lucky-Lucky" which never has, and never will make the best seller list, but which I came across while browsing in a book department one day and picked up because it was written by a young American nurse, Marva Hasselblad, who had just returned from three years in Vietnam at Nha Trang. When the book was finished I hated to close the cover because it was like a long visit with my daughter, Helen Louise, who is a nurse with the A.I.D. program, working in a hospital south of Saigon. The third book to absorb my interest was "Thomas" (Thomas à Becket) by Shelley Mydans, which pretty well covered the awesome struggle for power between church and state in the 12th Century. When I wasn't reading, the highways and byways of this lovely countryside were being leisurely explored in my new Toyota Corona DeLuxe which is a soul-lifting red — never, never in my wildest dreams did I ever picture myself owning a red car, but I have fallen in love with everything about it, the way it drives, rides and handles — well, with it all, the reading, the exploring and the little everyday things, I found my perspective getting back in focus again and my energies restored. More than that I don't think one can ask of a vacation no matter where one goes.

AN OPEN HOUSE this coming Sunday, August 13th, will honor the Silver Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gross of 215 E. 5th street. Hosted by their two sons, William and David, and Mrs. William Swelgart, sister of Mrs. Gross, it will be held at the family residence from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m.

MESS BARBARA GORTON will observe open church this Saturday, August 12th for her marriage to Russell O'Bier at 2 o'clock in the First Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace N. Gorton of Warren, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. O'Bier of Bridgeville, Del.

CVCC AWARDS LUNCHEON for the Junior Golf Tournament will be held tomorrow at the country club at 12:30 p.m. There will be a two-ball foursome play beginning at 10 a.m. A special golf film is to be shown after the luncheon. Reservations must be made for the luncheon with Mr. Rinfolo.

NICKI KEER is also observing open church for her marriage to Arden Tremblay this Friday, August 11th, at 7 p.m. in St. John's Lutheran Church, Pleasant Township. Miss Kiser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kiser, and her husband-to-be is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Myles Tremblay, all of Pleasant Township.

MINIATURES: The Warren Field and Stream workbee takes place tomorrow at the Pheasant Rearing Pens on Miller Hill road at 6:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served. All club members come armed for work with hammers. North Warren Volunteer Firemen are holding the annual picnic for the public at 6 p.m. tomorrow at Blomquist Island, North Warren. Tickets at $1.25 may be obtained from the firemen, or, at the picnic.

And, a Happy Birthday, to Mrs. William J. Mulvey, who is celebrating her 86th birthday today.

And, last but not least, my thanks to Olive Hoff for taking over for me.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Since you caused my problem, perhaps you can tell me what to do about it. You have wrecked my home life with those ridiculous letters about "talking" dogs.

First let me make it clear that my husband is a solid citizen. I have never known him to go off the deep end about anything — until he read in your column about the poodle who said "I want to go outside," and the spaniel who spoke Italian.

Now my husband is firmly convinced that if other people's dogs can talk, ours should be able to say something, too. For a week now he has been trying to get our boxer to say, "The rain in Spain falls mainly on the plain." The poor dog doesn't know what to make of it.

My husband has faith in you, Ann, so please tell him in your column that not all dogs can be made to talk and to stop making our hound miserable. — CAN'T GET THROUGH TO HIM

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Look, fella — leave the poor mutt alone. If he hasn't said anything up to now, he's not likely to — ever. So give up already.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night we went to a party at the home of relatives. An 11-year-old girl was being honored at a birthday party given by her parents.

The child ripped open one beautifully wrapped gift after another, glanced at the contents, tossed the gift aside, then reached for the next gift without uttering one word of thanks or even looking at the person who gave it to her.

After she had opened about a dozen boxes, she became bored, stepped over the gifts as if they were garbage and trotted into the bedroom to try on her new clothes. Her parents didn't say one word to her about her rudeness.

Please tell us if we should say something to the child, or to the parents. The girl is becoming more obnoxious by the day — CONCERNED RELATIVE

DEAR RELATIVE: It is clear from the tone of your letter that you dislike the child. The sad truth is that she is the victim of poor upbringing. It is tragic when children are reared to be selfish and ungracious. Think of what that girl will have to overcome later in life! Say nothing. Your remarks would not be well received. Do try to understand, however, that the child is not at fault.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl 15 who is torn between my mother and my father. They were divorced last month and I am a nervous wreck. I have the choice of going with my mother who has decided to stay in this house or I can move to an apartment with my father whom I love dearly.

If I go with my father I will have to change schools. This means leaving my friends which would kill me. I also feel I should stay with my little sister (who has no choice, she must remain with Mom), but this would mean Dad would have no one while Mom had two.

Please help me decide. — ONE WHO HATES DIVORCE

DEAR ONE: A 15-year-old girl is usually better off with her mother. A new school plus the emotional problems of a freshly split home is too much of a load. So, stay with your Mom and spend your summers and holidays with your Dad and good luck, honey.

Do you feel ill at ease . . . out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Randinelli-Hoffman Wedding Held In Youngsville Church

Angeline Randinelli became the bride of David MacRae Hoffman in St. Luke's Roman Catholic Church, Youngsville, on Saturday, August 5, in a 1:30 afternoon nuptial service. The Rev. Father Charles Hurley read the double ring wedding rites in the presence of three hundred wedding guests.

Karen Giegerich was at the organ, and vocal solos were offered by Robert Dietrich. Altar decorations included baskets of white gladioli with pink carnations. White ribbon markers set the family pews apart. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Randinelli of Irvine, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Joseph Hoffman of 412 Hickory street, Warren, and the late Mr. Hoffman.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long wedding gown, sheath with high bateau neckline, mid-elbow sleeves and graceful sweeping Watteau train. A domed head-dress secured her shoulder-length veil. Delicate filigree lace adorned the sleeves, hem of the skirt, train, and the head-dress. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis and pink sweetheart roses, and wore pearl earrings and matching bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Isabel Vesco, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Ann Fill, Mrs. Rose McCanna, Mrs. Judith Fitch, Miss Brenda Randinelli, niece of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid. All were in floor length gowns of mint green linen with matching petal headresses of net. They carried wedding ring bouquets of pink carnations with pink sweetheart roses.

The best man was Ted Weld of Fairview, Penna., and ushers were Ralph Hoffman, Donald Hoffman, Kenneth Hoffman, brothers of the groom, and Thomas Randinelli, nephew of the bride.

The mother of the bride chose a blue ribbon lace dress with white accessories and a pink rosebud corsage. The mother of the groom was in a mint green lace suit with bone accessories and yellow rosebud corsage. Mrs. Rose Adolphson, godmother, was remembered with a pink carnation corsage.

A reception, attended by the three hundred wedding guests, was held in Pleasant Township Fire Hall. Decorations were carried out in pink and white. The bride's table was decorated with the bouquets of the attendants and white frosted candles. The wedding cake, its four tiers separated by square pillars, was topped with a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Randinelli were the master and mistress of ceremonies. Aides were Joan Ulrich at the guest book, Wanda Weld served punch, Liz Randinelli cut the cake, and Mrs. Amerika Kulbacki poured coffee.

For traveling to Cape Cod, the new Mrs. Hoffman wore a pink linen A-line dress with navy accessories. They will reside in Warren after August 13.

The bride, a Youngsville High School graduate, is a laboratory technician at Warren General Hospital. The groom, a Warren High School graduate and graduate of Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, is presently employed at Taylor Pharmacy, Warren.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Mrs. Louis Vesco, Mrs. John Randinelli, Mrs. Ben Randinelli, Miss Ann Fill, Mrs. John McCanna, Mrs. Judith Fitch, a buffet dinner by Evelyn Gustafson. The rehearsal dinner at the Jackson Valley Country Club was given by the mother of the groom. The bridesmaids' luncheon took place in the Driftwood, Jamestown.

Out of town guests came from Ridgway, Erie, New Kensington, Pittsburgh, Johnstown, Warren, Tidioute, Sheffield, Youngsville, Penna.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Fullerton, Calif.; Irvington, N. J.; New Hampshire; Sufferin, Buffalo, and Jamestown, N. Y.

Two students of this area, Allan T. Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith E. Chase of Maple Place, North Warren, and David W. Sundheimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Sundheimer of 11 Jefferson avenue, Warren, are among those named to the Dean's List for academic achievement during the past semester at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Penna.

Mr. Chase will be a senior this fall and will graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree. Mr. Sundheimer, a junior this fall, is studying for a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Gayle Dawn Collin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley F. Collin of 1916 Pennsylvania ave. E., will be entering her senior year this September at the International Fine Arts College of Fashion in Miami, Florida. The college students will reside this fall in The Four Ambassadors, a twenty story luxury apartment complex.

Nuptial Vows Exchanged In Lakewood, California

The community Methodist Church in Lakewood, California, provided the setting for the marriage of Mrs. Margaret D.

Alfred to Thomas Duane Sleeman of that city, recently. The Rev. Robert Lewis Plaster read the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John H. Dickson of Fresno and the late Mr. Dickson. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sleeman of Clarendon.

Approaching the altar on the arm of her brother, Jack Dickson of Oakland, Calif., the bride wore an ecru lace dress with long sleeves and slim skirt. A matching rose secured her short veil and she carried white roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Carline Aviani in a yellow print dress with matching accessories and carrying yellow roses. Miss Dawn Allred was her mother's flower girl.

Edward Allan Sleeman of Lakewood, Calif., was his brother's best man. Ushers were Raymond Powers of Lakewood, and Norman Zimmerman of Garden Grove, California. Master Daniel Zimmerman was the ringbearer.

The mother of the bride chose a pink linen sheath, and the mother of the groom selected a mint green lace jacket ensemble. Both had white accessories and white orchid corsages.

A reception was held for one hundred and fifty guests at the Lakewood Country Club. Following a two week honeymoon at Lake Gregory and Las Vegas, the new Mr. and Mrs. Sleeman are now at home in Long Beach, Calif.

Mr. Sleeman is associated with the National Gypsum Company in Long Beach where he is office sales manager.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Sleeman.

Barbara Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Baker Jr. of 205 Dartmouth, has been named to the Dean's List for the second semester of the past year, at Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston Park, Quincy, Mass. Miss Baker will be a sophomore this fall.

Richard D. Burlingame, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burlingame, Main st., Russell, was on the Dean's List for this semester at Edinboro Campus, Warren.

Richard is majoring in Elementary Education and will enter Edinboro State Teacher's College, Edinboro, on September 9 as a junior.

First Baptist Church Setting For Halverson-Unger Wedding

Palms and floral arrangements adorned the altar of the First Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon, August 5, at 2 o'clock for the wedding of Paula Marie Halverson and John C. Unger Jr. The Rev. Howard R. Faulkner read the double ring service. Organ music was provided by Mrs. Joann Briggs. One hundred guests were present at the nuptial service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Craft of 17 West Third street, Warren, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Unger of 950 N. 5th street, Philadelphia, Penna.

Escorted by her father, the bride appeared in a wedding gown of ivory peau de soie with scooped neckline, elbow length sleeves and empire bodice edged with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The slender A-line skirt had a deep hemline of the lace which also edged the chapel length train. Her bouffant veil of French illusion was held by a crown of matching lace. She carried white roses arranged in a cascade.

The maid of honor, Kathy Steinkamp of Warren, a cousin of the bride; bridesmaids, Patricia Spatafore, Dori Meacham, all were in organza cage gowns of Nile green over taffeta peau sheaths, with contrasting daisy appliques and matching Nile green picture hats of horsehair, with tulle streamers and daisy trim. The junior bridesmaid, Kim Craft, sister of the bride, and the flower girl, Mistress Gwen Allen, were in yellow floor length gowns with white daisy trim and carried baskets of white and yellow daisies.

Best man was Joseph Ponist of Philadelphia, cousin of the groom, and ushers were Richard Knight of Philadelphia, Bill Pasquino and Scott Nelson, both of Warren. The ringbearer was Master Mark Koebly.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of beige Alencon lace over beige taffeta with brown accessories. The mother of the groom wore an A-line Alencon lace gown of blue over beige silk, and had beige accessories.

A reception in the church parlor followed the nuptials. For a wedding trip through the New England States, the new Mrs. Unger wore a three piece ensemble of blue silk with matching hat and black patent accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Unger are to reside at 120 S. White Horse Pike, Somerdale Manor, Somerdale, N.J.

The bride is a graduate of Warren Area High School and of the Charles Morris Price School of Advertising and Journalism in Philadelphia. She is now employed at Buckley Advertising Agency in Philadelphia. The groom, who attended Temple University, is a graduate of the same school as his wife. He is associated with Elkman Advertising Agency, Philadelphia.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Sandra Koebly. The rehearsal dinner was held at the Penn Laurel and the bridesmaids luncheon at the Blue Manor.

Guests were present at the wedding from Wisconsin; Burlington and Florence, N. J.; Levittown, Philadelphia, Pottstown.

The Southeast Asian fish trap has been described as a farmer's idea of how to catch fish. A 1,000-foot row of stakes driven offshore diverts schools of fish into a sort of corral, also of stakes. A net lies on the floor of the corral; fishermen winch it up and scoop out their catch with smaller nets.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
(c 1967 by The Chicago Tribune)
Neither vulnerable. South deals.

NORTH

♣ 7 6 4 3 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♥	1♠	3♥	Pass
3♠	Pass	4♠	Pass
4♦	Pass	5♦	Pass
6♥	Pass	7♥	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠. North's commitment of the partnership to a grand slam contract in hearts was distinctly optimistic in view of his holding in spades. Although South had announced first round control of that suit by his cue bid of three spades, North had no assurance that his partner could find a parking place for all of his spade losers.

West opened the king of clubs and North played the ace. A heart was led to declarer's ace drawing the only outstanding trump. South returned the jack of clubs. West covered with the queen and dummy ruffed. North cashed the king of diamonds and continued with the jack. Declarer overtook with the queen and then on the ace of diamonds and the established ten of clubs, he discarded two small spades from dummy. The ace of spades provided for North's only remaining side card and South claimed the grand slam.

It appeared to the observers that West's opening lead had given declarer the contract because of the ruffing situation that became established in the club suit once the king was gone. However, in the post-mortem analysis, it was established that South could not be defeated on the deal.

Suppose, for example, that West makes a neutral lead by opening his singleton trump. Declarer cashes three rounds of diamonds and then leads out all the trumps, discarding the seven of spades and the five of clubs from his hand. Here is the position when dummy leads the last trump at trick 10:

NORTH
♦ A
♠ K J
♥ Immateral
♦ K Q
EAST
♠ A 7
♥ J 10

As mentioned above, South discards the seven of spades on the seven of hearts and now West is caught in a fatal pincer. If he discards the jack of spades, then declarer leads a spade to the ace to drop the king and then reenters dummy with the ace of clubs to cash the queen of spades.

If West sheds the queen of clubs on the last heart, then South plays the ace of clubs to tell the king and leads over to the ace of spades to cash the jack of clubs for the fulfilling trick.
